Shh.

Shhh!

It hums.

Ah-ah I see!

So now I touch

The operator's key.

This two-pole error plot

Will probably not mean a lot.

I thank you so immensely much

For keeping me so frequently in touch.

The young Regina's aphorisms ring true.

They have surely guided me as much as you,

Even though they are in certain details new

To what has been my inner guiding star

I have no doubt that for every one of us

The words of ever-young Regina are

In each an aphorism we can trust.

But now, I ask you Glen: If you

Were asked to choose but ten

Of these many noble lines

Which would these be?

They all are very nice

But it seems to me

That forty-three

Will probably well suffice

For a life of you,

& me.

Shh
