Notes for Alexander Halberstam:

Rabbi Chaim Malowicki wrote (4/6/2006) : "In 1938, after the Nazi laws started to be enacted, Dr. Alexander, who worked at a pharmacy, was fired on the account of being Jewish. The pharmacy owed him money and back-pay, which he never recieved.

He fled to Belgium in January 1939, presumably with his wife. I heard they were in Antwerpen, although the visa was made for Brussels.

It is unclear what happened to them in Belgium, but we do know that he and his wife were eventually caught by the Nazis and sent to concentration camps at Lorient, Casseneuil and Drancy in Paris. From Drancy, they were deported to Auschwitz on 9 September 1942 with 1005 other Jews. We know that this transport arrived two days later and that only 23 men were sent into the Lager. It can be presumed, but without any certainty, that Dr. Alexander Halberstam and his wife Sara/Sabine were sent directly to their deaths on Rosh Hashana, 1942, may their names and the names of all our holy martyrs be avenged."
