

Life.

*It begins and ends at the same point.
For each one of us;
Our beginning is our final destination.*

*The end or the start is immaterial,
It is but inconsequential.
It's the path that matters.*

*The radius of the circle is trivial,
It is irrelevant;
It's the circumference that matters.*

*All the circles are concentric;
All are related,
For our core remains that very centre.*

*The humans do not understand,
They are unable to comprehend-
The hand drawing the circle is the same for all.*

*As I draw concentric circles, with a compass;
I guess I have just realized.
What it feels to be like God.*
