8.0 Cuisine and cuddling at the bistro. Richard O'Sullivan and Tessa Wyatt in Robin's Nest

7.30 Dave Allen

Continuing his exploration of the unusual in America, Dave Allen considers crime U.S.-style—but with an eccentric twist. On the West Coast, he treats the beat with the world's most famous dog detective, Sherlock Bones.

In New York, he shares the often deadly dangers of a night patrol with the country's strangest police force, the so-called Decoy Squad.

DR. ROBERT BUCKMAN

What Makes You Tie?

In the first of three programmes on psycho-medical problems, Dr. Robert Buckman introduces the story of Bob, a patient with symptoms funny to others—but perhaps not so funny to Bob.

Bob has a rare and mysterious disorder: Tourette's Syndrome. It makes him a mimic, clown, actor, comic—and gives him a nervous tic.

Dr. Oliver Sacks, an English Neurologist working in New York, studied Bob and made a unique record on videotape. Tonight, reporter Austin Mitchell sees this material to explore an enigma which Dr. Sacks calls "a disease of our time".
