Adelante Nuestro Futuro Conference:

For those of you who did not have the opportunity to attend this year's event, you truly missed out on a wonderfully educational and inspirational youth conference. Although it was raining, the young girls chosen to model, were still able to beautify them selves (with the help of Looks Beauty Salon and some of our sisters...great hair Janet!!) for the fun spring fashion show. Alma, your fashion show was great!! The guest speakers for the different "Platicas" as well as the keynote speakers did an amazing job, and were extremely informative. They were able to give these young ladies a great perspective of what they were capable (with a little hard work and determination). Diana Tapia, one of our sisters in blue, gave a wonderful talk about what her field entailed, and there were many other sisters involved in making this such a successful event. I would like to congratulate Christina Vejar and Michelle Figueroa on coordinating the whole event... You survived it gracefully. I would also like to thank all the other alumnus who participated. I was proud to be a member of this organization comprised of such talented and successful women.

Career Corner: KDChi...Hazardous Chemicals and Environmental Safety

This career corner will be a little different than our usual format, but that is because Nanette Munoz wrote a wonderful description about what her job entails. I know that there are a few active Delta Members who are actually interested and studying this field. Congratulations to Nanette for having such an awesome job- now that is what I call one smart cookie!

Environmental Health & Safety Engineer for Goodrich

Aerostructures

Primary functions: To assess the environmental, health and safety impacts and interactions of all business activities, products and services. Responsible and committed to meet and exceed all regulatory and company standards which are verified through periodic auditing and assessment. As an EHS engineer, I am accountable for continually improving environmental, health and safety prevention of pollution and hazard reduction through creativity, ingenuity and logical problem solving. One of the things I like most about my job is that it never becomes mundane; you are always facing new challenges and finding areas with potential for improvement. I recently completed OSHA's 40 HAZWOPER (Hazardous Waste and Emergency Response) training which along with added responsibility for the preservation of life and the environment, it gives you access to top of the line communication, rescue, and chemical sampling equipment "the good stuff" (for all you nerds out there that are feeling me on this one!). Anyway, for more info I can be reached at nanette.munoz@goodrich.com or 619-691-2306.

Sounds like a very interesting job. Again for any of those sisters who might be interested in this line of work or those who are currently studying Chemical Engineering please feel free to email Nanette with any questions. We have a great resource at our fingertips, and we should definitely take advantage. Round of applause for Nanette, and let's pray she never has to clean up any hazardous waste...the fumes can't be any good for the lungs!

A Letter From Our Local Chapter President:

"If we don't change, we don't grow. If we don't grow, we don't learn. If we aren't learning, we aren't really living."

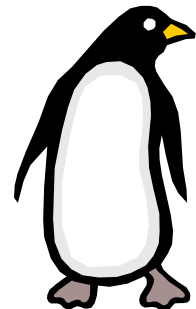

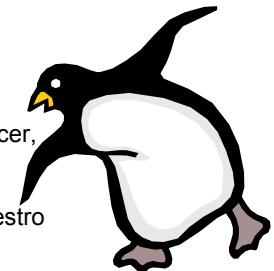

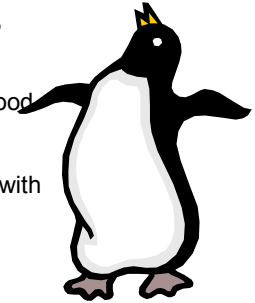

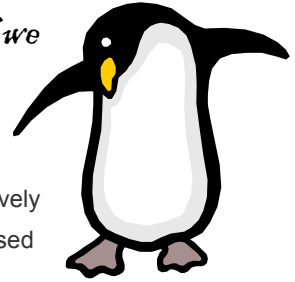

-Anonymous-

That is what this semester feels like. Starting off with an entirely new Executive Board, a relatively young Active Body, and an overall feeling of hope and new beginnings, this semester has surely promised two things: definite change and a new learning experience for us all. Every semester Kappa Delta Chi promises change one way or another. It is up to the Sisters to embrace these changes, grow from them, learn from them, and live with them.

This semester's events have come fast and without hesitation. We began our semester on a good note with a successful Open Rush that proved to demonstrate heightened interest in our organization. Guest speakers, David Lorde, Rosie Stewart, and Socorro Carrizosa, inspired potential New Members with brilliant words of advice. Not only were our advisors present, but we also enjoyed the company of our Alumni. It is great to receive such support from everyone. We would like to thank you all for your contributions.

This semester's New Member Educator, Leslee Barclay, and her assistants, Sonya Morris and Marissa Marchello, in collaboration with the Expansion Chair, LeAnn Charles, hosted a fun-filled Rush Social Event at Reid Park on Friday, February 4, 2005. Sisters and our invited guests had a great time getting better acquainted and simply enjoying each other's company. The following day our Service Officer, Elizabeth Primero, organized our first service event of the semester. With a creative design, motivated volunteers, and good humor, we productively completed the decorations for the upcoming Adelante Nuestro Futuro Conference.

As mentioned earlier, change is underway. With high hopes and a great start of the semester, we are beginning our growth process. I highly encourage and invite all of you to attend as many events as possible this semester so that you may embark on this new journey of learning and progress with us all. Thank you and we hope to see you soon.

Holiday Mayhem:

Well, the time has come to recap all the craziness that might have occurred during your holiday. With all the excitement and good cheer there is always that inevitable mayhem that ensues, whether it be your tree catching on fire or your ginger bread house collapsing. Here are a few stories that occurred to our very own penguins....you would have thought that we could survive anything, but just listen to these extremely entertaining stories:

One of our sister's (from the delta chapter) Nanette Munoz had a lot of fun over the holidays. Her sister got married, and there were all of those holiday parties. Maybe, Nanette had too many sweets this year, because when she went to the Dentist they discovered that she had eight cavities. Not necessarily holiday mayhem, but it might have been the consequence of too many chocolate Santa's.

Monica Franco sent another email, which included a wild Care Bear shake down and a crying child...what was Monica thinking, and when did Care Bears become so popular again. Does anyone have any Care Bears from their child hood that they never could let go of? Monica wouldn't disclose all of the details, so if you want to know more you will have to email her...I tried but she didn't give me much!

I (Lizette Granillo) on the other hand, spent Christmas Eve with my boyfriend's family. I wanted to bake something, instead of buying gifts because he has such a large family, but I didn't have time so I asked my little sister to make them. They were the hardest bricks of chocolate, and I had to take the credit for the not so tasty treats!!!!
