

Stanford University
450 Serra Mall
Stanford, CA 94305
March-22-2018

Dear Reader:

My name is Dr Bibek Mainali, and I am a professor at Stanford University. I am also an animal rights activist. I have been working on some research on animal experimentation and cruelty. I mostly researched animal cruelty, but I still have drug tests and cosmetic tests on innocent animals. I have been stitched to this topic for more than 18 years now, so I decided to make a website to inform people about life of innocent creatures before they get turned into food, and life innocent creatures that died because of your hair product, or any other cosmetic product. In this website I will be including an interview, an article I made, a story I made from the perspective of a test subject, a short poem, and more about the topic on animal experimentation and cruelty.

Throughout my website's genres, I have displayed all the knowledge I received from my years and years of research. My interview will provide information about how Prop 2 or Proposition 2 has not been followed even though it was passed in California. My poem I made is made by me, and I did not get it from someone else, or another site. I will be adding many facts and information about all of my subtopics. My journal entry will give you an understanding on how animals suffer because of these cruel and harsh torture. I will also include the article I made. This article will be about the suffering and torture that animals go through. The next thing that I'll be adding is a top 5 reasons we need to stop animal experimentation. I will be adding the organizations that have done all they can to protect animals, and past experimentalists who have experimented on animals. There will also be a webpage about the drug, and cosmetic tests on animals. At the end of course there will be an annotated works cited at the end. I would not take all the credit to myself.

I have always loved my job of being a professor and a researcher, but the recent research I have done is very heart breaking. I love animals and I could possibly do anything to save a lot of them. The best part of my job is mostly giving lectures about how animal experimentation is cruelty. People say it is science but there is no part of me that agrees with them. I would love to donate lots of money to animal activists organization but that is only if I could. I am a proud and loving activist. I am a member of PETA, and I will stay a member of PETA.

Sincerely,

Bibek Mainali

Bibek Mainali