THE SPIRIT AND HOME OF STUDENT AFFAIRS IN CALIFORNIA

Welcome back CCPA!!

California college professionals once again have a network of colleagues with whom they may network, collaborate, and mentor! As members of ACPA, you are already aware of the value of a professional organization comprised of professionals with shared needs and concerns. CCPA is an opportunity for college professionals in California to come together to address our unique needs. The leadership team needs you to advance and develop our goals and mission. We are asking you to complete a short survey designed to identify what you feel our goals should include. The survey can be accessed at:

HOW CAN YOU GET INVOLVED?

The new leadership team is dedicated to energizing and developing CCPA. There are many opportunities for you to become involved—either in an official leadership role or as a general member interested in attending meetings, making suggestions, or providing information. If you are interested in becoming more involved, please contact:

Amanda Carlton amanda.carlton@sjsu.edu

We value learning, collaboration and social justice. We commit ourselves to the purposes stated in our constitution:

- ◆ Provide leadership for the state of California
- ◆ Stimulate creative and experimental initiatives
- ◆ Promote and disseminate research
- ◆ Engage multiculturalism and diversity

We need your input to refine our Vision!
