

CFNM SURVEY RESULTS

Summary

For the past several months we have used an Internet survey collection web site to collect responses from women and men interested in attending CFNM events and parties. The purpose was two fold: first, to ascertain whether there were enough people interested (particularly women) to indicate a party would have a good turnout, and second, to learn from those interested what type of activities they would enjoy versus what would be too “edgy”.

The survey was promoted on several Yahoo Groups, news services, the website “Visual Sensations for Women”, Craigslist and sent to individual emails. Although most respondents have been male, there has been enough female responses to indicate that hosting CFNM parties, if properly advertised, would be successful and well attended, provided that it would be the females setting the policies and selecting the males that would be invited.

The survey was designed such that when the respondent designated their gender, different types of questions would be asked, although a good portion of the questions are for both genders.

We will continue to update these responses as results are received.
