

Tears

*Tears – synonymous of love
They come out when you think
Of someone you need
When you love the one
For whom you do feel
When you get hurt
From someone you care
When you are over joyed
Or when you like yourself
In one way or the other.*

*Though they come out
To enlighten your happiness
And to ease your sorrows, but
Their absorption in eyes
Strengthens & makes you great
To face hardships next time
Why don't you be a rock
At the shore of life?
Striking waves - the ups and downs
Cutting away a part of yours
To give your smile a new glow
Wiping-off your tears
Themselves every time.*
