

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

What do you think of high school students being married? State your reasons why.

DWAYNE McCOY: I think it is all right, except for Valda.

CONNIE BARNETT: It's all right if they don't discuss their married life in school.

JUDI SCHOLTEN: It depends on the individual. They should be mature enough to accept the responsibility of marriage and going to school. If they can accomplish this, it's fine with me, but I really think they should finish school.

MR. APPLEBY: If they are happy and satisfied with their husband; I am happy for them. Many of married students are very successful in life.

JOANN TRISDALE: In their Senior year, I think it's all right, before that a girl or boy might become discouraged and not want to finish school. I do believe that a boy and girl are really in love, they could probably wait until after they finished school.

LYNN SCOTT: I think they should wait until they're out of school because they miss most of the fun in their teen years.

MARLENE MILLER: I think it is best to wait until after you've finished high school, then you don't miss out on school functions.

BILL WOMACK: It depends on whether you have to or not.

RUTH HACKENBERG: I don't think high school students should be married until they graduate because it gives them too much responsibility and they do not have the time or seem to care about school work.

BOB EAKIN: It's silly, they shouldn't be married until they had been out for two to four years. Because they can be prepared for the hard life.

RAY KRUEGER: It is not usually a very good idea, because most kids are not mature enough and are not able to support themselves, let alone anyone else.

CAROL MADDIX: High school students should finish high school before marrying because they are too young and cannot face the responsibilities that marriage entails. I don't feel, however, that they should be taken out of school if they do marry; unless, of course, they are disturbing normal school activities by their actions and views.

Smart Guy (getting on bus): "Well, Noah, is your ark full?"

Driver: "No, I'm short one donkey. Come on in."

Ike: "You say Tony gave up his job as traveling salesman just to please his wife?"

Mike: "Yes, it seems she wanted her Tony home permanent."

The fifth grade was having a geography lesson, and the teacher asked Bob a question about the English Channel.

"I wouldn't know about that one," the little boy shook his head doubtfully. "We get only one channel on our TV set."

Teacher: "Who defeated the Philistines?"

Butch: "Sorry, teach, I don't follow the minor leagues."

Cowhand: "Aren't you putting your saddle on backward, sir?"

Dude Rancher: "That's all you know about it, smarty. You don't even know which way I'm going."

Host: "If you stay here tonight, you will have to make your own bed."

Guest: "That's all right."

Host: "Here is a hammer and saw. Good night."

O: "What was the explosion on Si's farm?"

K: "He fed his chickens some lay-or-bust-feed and one of them was a rooster!"
