Rahul said: (Wed, Apr 27, 2016 05:16:42 PM)

Hi, my name is Rahul and I am a very curious and inquisitive person by nature. One of the things I like the most is analyzing how various things work and what is it that makes them work in a particular way. I also try to inculcate this in both my personal as well as professional tasks and always ensure that I carry out all activities in the most effective and efficient manner thereby trying to simplify things. This is one of the prime reasons as to why I chose my current job profile of a Business Analyst because I feel that I can thoroughly do justice to the job and give my 100% towards it.

I have been in my current role for the past 2 years and during the course of it, I have transformed myself into a better person on the professional front. Two main qualities that I can associate to are 'Strong decision making' and a 'Strategic Planning' ability and these have now been imbibed in my day to day work routine. I strongly feel that these qualities have given me a true sense and understanding of the work at hand and enabled me to excel at work because I can envision a clear roadmap as to what needs to be done when taking up any new task. I also am a team player and love working with a diverse and varied set of people because that not only helps me to understand the task from their point of view but also to gain deeper insights into the work at hand and thereby enables the whole unit to function more effectively towards our common goal which is growth and success for the organization we work in. That's all about me in a nutshell. Hope that conveys the information you are looking for. Thanks.

Kiran Kumar Yanamadala said: (Wed, Apr 20, 2016 02:41:52 PM)

Good afternoon all,

I am Kiran, I have completed my graduation in Dr. B. R Ambedkar Open University Hyderabad. Coming to my family details, I have two sisters and four brothers, all are not having the education background, I got marriage in 2008 and I have two children, those are studying and first kid is in 3 and the girl child is in 1st.

Coming to my working career, I have joined in the First Indian Corporation in 2006 Dec, I started my career as process executive in this organization up to Aug 2008, After I internally moved to First American Corporation in the same organization and for another process, which is related to vendor invoice process and payments disputes. This process name Field services. Here I am doing the process of the work which is completed by the vendor from the on site and they provided all the detail through one application and it was generated as an order. We are verifying the work and estimates which are submitted by the vendors. We process the order, if the work is completed by the vendor and we are able to justify the work by provided supporting photos of the work. If the work is not completed accurately, immediately the work order is returned to the vendor to complete the work in a correct manner.

After two years of work experience in this process I got the promotion as an

SPE and after that I am moving to prepare to reports and provided the floor support for the Jr. Associates. While continuing in this process. Cognizant taken over this company and also us. This process was ramp down in 2014 Aug, after I moved to another internal project which is called Document Solutions. I worked in this process on mortgage domain which is related to my first process in this organization. I have not been working as an associate, but acting like SME for the last 2 years and provide the floor support and preparing the reports and but not got the promotion due to the fact I had used many leaves in this period because of my mother and father expired. I intentionally moved to Common Deployment Pool to search for another allocation and to looking for my career growth.

Finally my company is having good opportunities and it gave a great freedom in work location and it has immense situations and very good reputation. I am very pleasure to work in this organization. That's all about me.

Thank you,

Santosh said: (Fri, Apr 15, 2016 01:24:52 AM)

Hello sir,

I am Santosh Kumar, I hail from Tamil Nadu an southern state in India and I was born and brought up in Delhi. I started my schooling in Kendriya Vidyalaya, Rajasthan. My father being a central gov employee we moved a lot in India. Because of this, I never had difficulties in adopting new languages and environments.

During my mid-schooling, we shifted to our home place. I did my 10th and 12th standard in Madurai.

After my schooling due to my interest in maths and science which is evident from my consistant participation in NSTSE, I opted to choose engineering study for my bachelors.

I completed my bachelor degree of engineering in electronics and communication from Anna University, Chennai. During my engineering study apart from my curricular activities I used my innovative ideas to learn new things.

After completing my bachelor degree, I took a time to explore the available opportunities and chose the appropriate field to pursue my career. Meanwhile to keep my logical thinking sharp I decided to take banking exams as it provided my career opportunities too. With my logical thinking, I am more interested in programming and I have decided to pursue my career as a programmer.

My hobbies are playing video games, surfing the internet and going out with friends.

That's all about myself. Thank you.
