Basically the astro chart is exceptionally strong.

The current Level II Jupiter operating during 13-02-04 to 21-05-06 is exceptionally strong. Its co-relation with Me (Level I) is also comfortable. The price has moved exceptionally upward since the commencement of Ju as Level II.

Beside Level I & II, the price movement depends on Level III as well. Mo is operating as L III for the period from 22-09-05 to 29-11-05. Its individual position is good in chart but its co-relation is not comfortable with Level II Ju.

The price may remain more or less at the same level during most of the period except for the effects of transits. Buy on decline seems feasible.

Ma would operate as Level III during 30-11-05 to 16-01-06. It is also not so comfortably placed in the astro chart. The next Level III i.e; Ra seems excellent. It will operate during 16-01-06 to 21-05-06. An appreciably high level of price is possible during this period. Profit can be booked at least partly.

Sa will operate from 21-05-06 to 28-01-09 at Level II. Though Sa is strong, it is difficult at this stage to arrive at an assessment as to which is stronger Ju or Sa. If Sa proves less strong than Ju, then the price boom may not be possible and up movement would depend only on different Level III TSPs during the period.

One file in excel format illustrating the analysis of historic price of the stock versus TSPs is also uploaded. This file can give a good idea about the significance of cosmo analysis based reports and the TSPs for price movement. You can see the file on the following link :

It may be noted that sometimes a forthcoming good/ bad TSP can start giving results few days in advance of its commencement. This happens on account of parallax phenomenon.

This report can be found useful only after understanding the basic concepts as given on the link : <http://www.geocities.com/cosmostocks> If a TSP during a period is strong it doesn't mean that price would move up and up only. Ups and downs would take place on account of constantly moving positions of the planets. However, there is a good probability that at one or the other stage during the period, the price would move appreciably up. Likewise for the bad/ weak TSPs. This point is well explained on the above link.

How to strategize : Use of the information regarding strength of long term Level I & II and comparatively shorter term Level III TSP can be made for strategizing on investment. Suppose the long term Level I & II are assessed as good and a forthcoming Level III (short term) is also good, then buy it and then partly exit nearing a bad Level III, leaving some qty. for a future good level III TSP. However if forthcoming Level I or II is assessed as bad/ weak, then holding it becomes more risky. Over and above keep fundamentals & technicals in the fore front and use these projections for second opinion only.
