

An Energy Signature is much like a fingerprint. Energy signatures are unique to the individual plant, animal, human or other life form, such as a forest or a school of fish. An example of an energy signature would be a Kirlian photograph. Other systems exist with which to measure such subtle fields and signatures.

These signatures can be used to identify others when astralling, reading the person or what have you. It is a way of knowing who exactly you are connecting to. It makes a template of sorts of an individual, thereby making it easier to actually remember the entity one is trying to connect with. One can realize both positive and negative levels inside the signature also among health issues if they exist in the individual.

An experienced psychic vampyre can usually tell from the signature of another vampyre what type they are (Ex: Sanguine, psi, astral, etc).

"Reading" or "scanning" another person's energy signature can tell you things about them by the "feel" of it- such as emotions, motives, health problems, etc.

You each hold your individual energy signature, so to speak. In this, you create your own combinations of energy that you project as you manifest through your emotions, your thoughts, your physical feelings, all of your senses, inner and outer. There are many working elements to you, and all of these are expressed through energy.

Your individual expression of tone and vibrational quality and personality are so very highly unique and individualized to you yourself that it may be compared to physical fingerprints not being duplicated within the physical expression of any other individual throughout your history within your physical dimension.

There are no two identically the same, and in this, you each hold a particular energy signature which is unique to yourself.

In this, you create your own combinations of energy that you project as you manifest through your emotions, your thoughts, your physical feelings, all of your senses, inner and outer. There are many working elements to you, and all of these are expressed through energy. There are countless you's of you.

In like manner, you within physical focus are continuously creating the same type of action, but you do not think in these terms. You think of yourself as being a singular entity. Therefore, you also think to yourselves – and believe – that if you are projecting through consciousness, you are projecting yourself – that you identify as you, this singular entity – away from the physical vessel of your body into other areas, but you do not view yourself as projecting into many, many, many areas simultaneously and interacting in all of these areas and situations simultaneously, for you are directing your attention singularly. But in actuality, your reality moves quite similarly within physical focus as it moves within nonphysical focus. In this, you are merely focusing your attention singularly. Therefore, you view yourself as one singular entity and all of your projections as one singular entity.

Now in this, as a whole, so to speak, there is a tremendous interconnectedness, and therefore none of the elements, none of the you's, in a manner of speaking, move not in conjunction with any of the other you's of you. These are all of the aspects of you within one focus. This is not the entirety of essence. This is merely the manifestation of one focus and all of the aspects that are associated with that one focus. In this, you may be manipulating energy within your focus to be directing of very many aspects of you in very many different directions.

Each idea is made of words, which are made of letters, each of which has a sound vibration. Every whole thought is a collective sound vibration. These need not be spoken aloud for them to exist in the universal ethers...because they are all electrons, neutrons and protons and this makes up each individual's energy signature.

Just like the radio waves of many stations are also "in the air," even though we can't see them, as they are on a different wavelength. Just by thinking about a given thing, you are "tuning in" to its own vibration, its own signature of energy in the universe - similar to turning on a radio and tuning to the correct channel which is what one does when realizing other's energy signature. Its a way of focusing in on a specific person, psychic's do it all the time as well as a channeler among those also that believe in sacred geometry.
