

Quiz Features

- Anonymity : Nobody can tell who is taking a quiz or how many times you have taken it. However, the number of times a quiz is accessed globally (by everybody) is available as a statistic.
- Random : Each time a quiz is taken, the order in which questions are presented as well as the order in which answers are listed is randomized.
- No Time Limit : There is no time limit for completion. If you hibernate your computer, you continue where you left off the next day. However, if you 'kill' your browser, your next attempt will be a fresh one.
- Results : Results will be displayed when you complete the quiz. Alternatively, to review how well you've done on the quiz prior to completion, click on "Cancel and show results". However, this terminates the current attempt.
- Termination : You do not have to run the quiz to completion to be shown your results; just click on "Cancel and show results".
- History : No history of your scores is maintained.
- Hyperlinks : Clicking on a hyperlink takes you to the associated web page, in the same window. Click on "Back" to continue the quiz.

Typical ways of taking a quiz

- To completion : You are tough and determined ... and probably a little nuts.
- Multiple attempts, 20 questions at a time : You are sensible and a good planner ... and probably a little nuts [anybody doing a DVM is a little nuts!]
