

Online Journal Assignment

At the start of the semester:

Each student is required to obtain and maintain a free online blog from Xanga.com. Each student is required to link their individual blogs with the class Security Journal – ITEC 5321 – Fall 05 blog ring. You can find and join the blog ring at <http://www.xanga.com/home.aspx?user=croweye>.

Each week

Find a current security article relevant to that week's security topic. Topics are listed in the Class Schedule.

Once you have selected the article, you should create a brief essay. Brief here is defined as being from one to three (no more than five) paragraphs long. This essay needs to include why you selected that particular article, why it is significant, and to which security domain(s) it relates.

Prior to the beginning of each Saturday class, you should turn in a hard copy of the essay. The essay also should be posted electronically on your blog.
