

Dear alumni:

We have organized bedside tutorials for our colleagues in preparing for the intermediate exam since 1999. In the past few years, due to relative shortage of 'examinable' short cases, we liaise with our classmates working in another cluster to do these teaching. In the last PACES, many people from other hospital also contacted us to do the same thing. We guess that there might be a real problem going on. We hope to measure the need for these cross-cluster teaching, identify areas/people that require attention. By doing so, it might also strengthen the bond between us. This is the objective of the survey.

Please complete the questionnaire hyperlinked at the following address:

The subjects of the survey are medical alumni graduated from CUHK between 1998 - 2002 and now working in any medical unit. The nature of the survey is an electronic click-and-done questionnaire composed of ten questions. None of respondents' particular, including email address, could be retrieved or saved. The survey could be done at anytime until next PACES, which will be held on 2005/10/24.

Your candid and thoughtful reply will help our evaluation. Most people are able to complete the questionnaire in less than two minutes. Your response and any comments will be treated with utmost confidentiality. After the results are tabulated and compiled, we will issue a report at the following webpage:

Thanks again for your help.

Sincerely,
