Monday, March 22, 5:55pm. I was very eager to cap the office toil that day. Finally, makakasama ko na naman sila Eyo at Romark. But this time, kasama na si Mayk, who spent most of his "after life" sa Northern Luzon; at si Chap whom we thought was hiding from us because of some acad issues.

At 9pm, I Received an SMS from Mayk: "WRU? PPUNTA NA KAMI NI RMARK JAN."

So I replied "CGE LANG POGI, W8 KO KAYO."

So we all went to and met with Eyo sa Pier One. Suprisingly, Chap came after, along with PR and Jac. Two more people whom we thought got lost in their own world in Kalookan.

A couple of drinks sa Pier One, a close encounter with Jeffrey Santos, we decided we had enough and so we went looking for another bar na mas masaya. We found a nearby bar where girls dances on ledges and show a lot of thongs and little bit of them puppies.

In my head, I know I miss this guys a lot. And I was wondering, kumusta kaya ang naging buhay nila when we all parted ways about 8 years ago.

Errol works sa nazi-ruled BASF. He found his calling as a sales rep. But before that, he first became a Mad Scientist in that same company. Working relentlessly to create a death bomb to fight the Allied forces and inventing the first edible house paint.

Sometime this year, he'll be leaving for New York.

Do you know we have an alumni who writes for the Manila Times? Though I haven't read any articles from him yet. Hindi din naman ako bumibili ng e-Magazine dati, where he once worked in. He's the baseball varsity slugger back in Notre Dame. So Romark, if you're thinking this is about you, guess again. I'm talking about Lyndon Cayco el Pueblo de Pavarotti.

Jac Aban is working sa SM Southmall. May clinic dun where you can look for him. Therapist yata sya dun (tama ba Jac?). Though he has to wear sunglasses and walks with a cane everytime he comes to work. When I asked him why, he said that that's the trend ng therapy today sa Pilipinas.

Si PR at si Chap ay ganun pa rin. They're still filthy rich. And if I say more about them, baka murahin nila ako.

Si Mayk naman ay nasa Las Piñas. He's a medrep. Isa na namang over-paid SOB dito sa pinas. Weekend father and is getting married sa church next month. I'm sorry to bring that up to all those girls (and guys) who thinks Bate is still available. Pero pogi, sibat pa rin ang legs mo.

Wala nga lang yung iba. Si Mac, si Alvin Espe, si Titot, Allan Aldea..etc. Sana next time.

Like si Jo Rodriguez at Nerissa Barte. Last time I saw Jo, she was so beautiful and I bet very bendy (sorry Eyo, your loss). Si Cheng naman nakita ko sa Shangri-la Plaza last month. Sana makasama ka namin at ang iyong BF sa Pulp Summer Slam 2, Fort. Si Lanie Puyos kaya kmsta na? May family of her own na kaya?

Barkada summer outing 199?, Novaliches.

Sometimes, we'll never know what happened to them or where they are now. But I would keep an open eye to them everytime I go out in public.

Like before I moved out of Valenzuela, I saw Jerome Nakpil driving a sleek yellow car (before I use to say yellow cab just for the fun I get out of it, but that was then) sa may Grand central.

Also, I saw Robert Cruz 7 years ago in the SM Carpark. When I was riding the LRT to Monumento, I saw Jeanette Uy talking to a guy along the steps of Pedro Gil station.

I met Alvond Saldevar in Rockwell Powerplant. Sa jeep ko sya nakasabay. Di ko nga nakilala e. And when I told you guys that I thought I met Armida Siguion-Reyna sa Makati? That's the day when I saw Carol Chaves crossing the streets of Makati (nakalimutan ko kung anong street.) And just when I though I was gaining weight, na-meet ko naman si Ramiro Cablao sa Megamall. Sorry Ramiro at medyo suplado ako nun kaya di kita nabati kaagad. And there was this one time, at band camp...

So if you ever happen to see an old friend, classmate, schoolmate sa labas, take a few minutes just to say "Hi!" You'll never know whom you'll meet round the bend.
