Adobe Illustrator Work

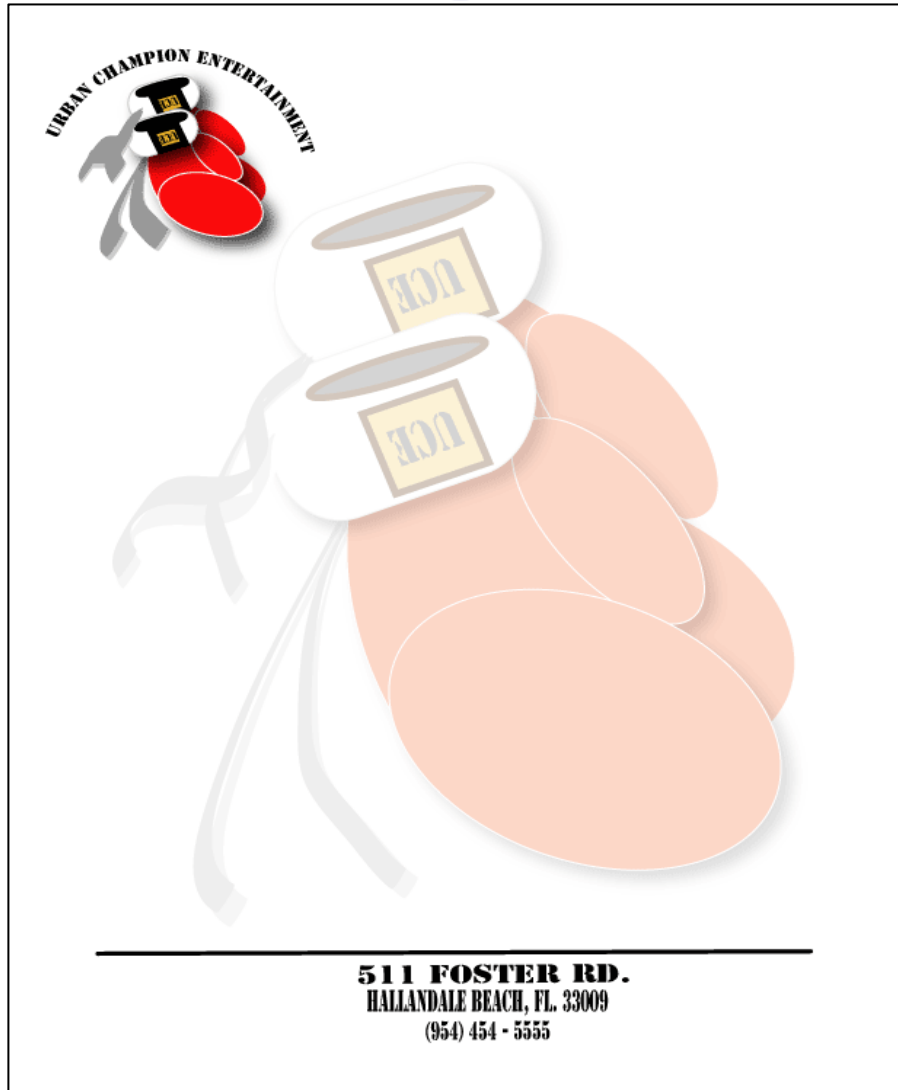

This is the first Business compilation that I've done. The company is fictitious and was part of my college coursed project work.

The plane was colorized using Illustrator from a black and white clipart file.

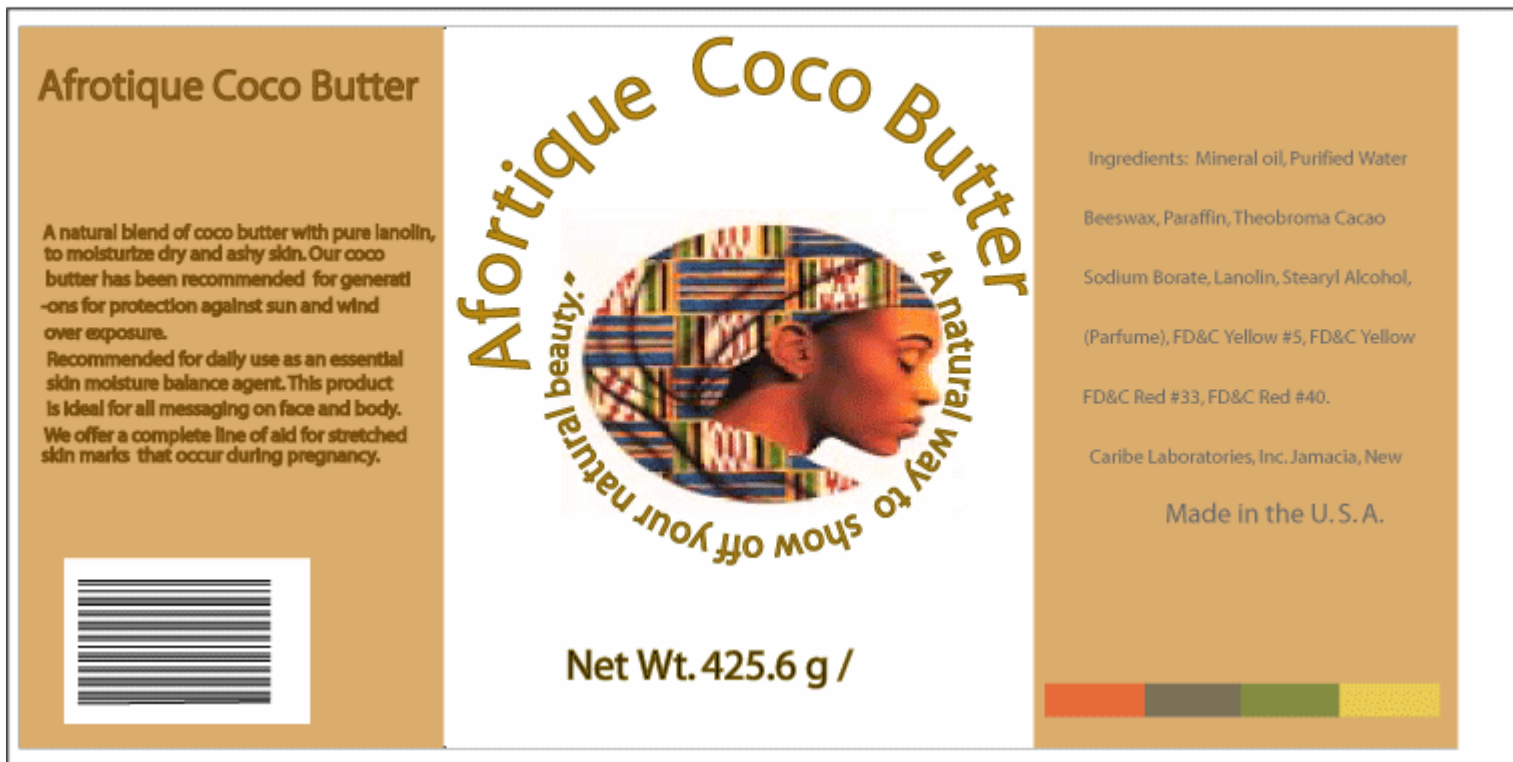

Adobe Illustrator Work (contd.)

This is mock letterhead was for an entertainment company. The gloves are form the basic shapes in illustrator.

Although the shapes and shading are different, the ability To use the effects are what I needed to show proficiency in.

Adobe Illustrator Work (contd.)

The assignment here was to create a product label. The center piece of the African woman, was created by another artist. Everything else was made in illustrator.

Adobe Illustrator Work (contd.)

This is an interface Created in Illustrator. The superheroes were drawn by an artist named Taki. I used Photoshop and extracted the heroes, Empire State Building, Statue of Liberty and New York City skyline.

Adobe Illustrator Work (final)

This final assignment in illustrator was to create a magazine Ad for an existing company.

(For all of these works, I was able to use items from the web as a student to complete the work as long as I don't resell any of the items for monetary gain.)

Adobe Photoshop work

This work is four photos in one. The Beach, tiki hut with chairs and water are one picture. The first hotel on the left is blended in as well as the palm trees. The other hotel, yacht and foliage are the third pictures. The final is the *black headed ibis' and their reflection.

*They are all from one bird.

Adobe Photoshop work

The theme here was to create an Ad for a corporate event. The previous example is the background to this minority entrepreneur business conference. Every picture was manipulated in Photoshop and layered as needed.

*There are a total of 12 Pictures used here.

Web site design

These are Flash web sites that I've started. All are fully functional, works in process. Completing them into entire sites and updating them as needed took time but, the knowledge is priceless.

Web site design

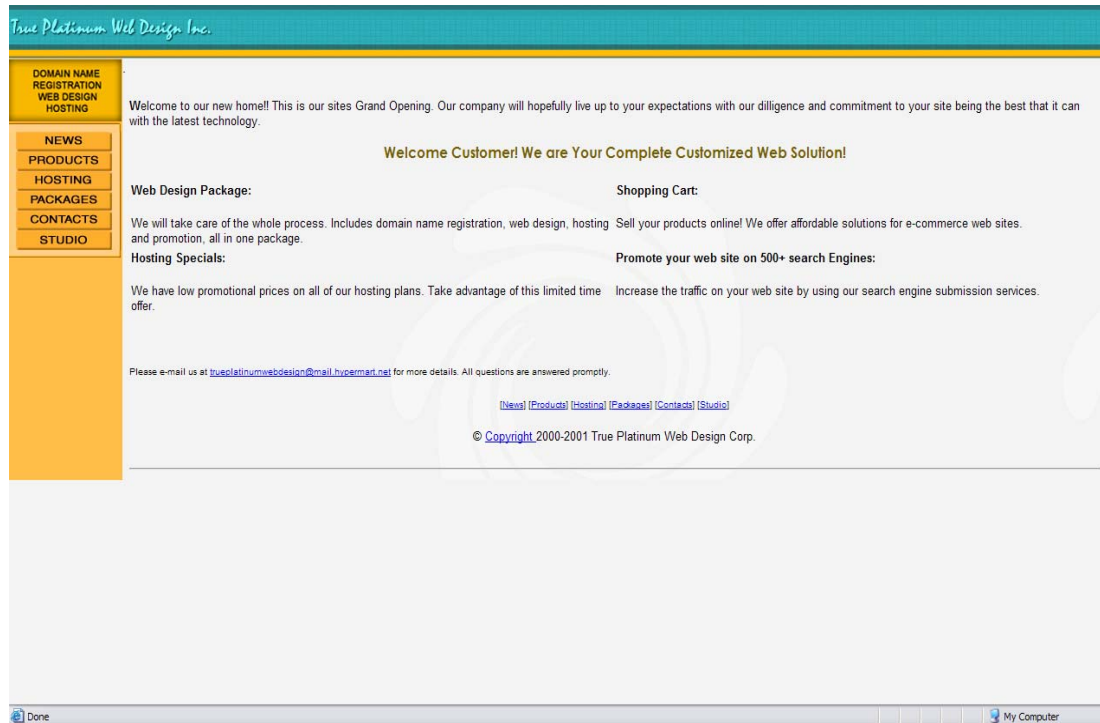

This is for a typing service. The whole Site has a three frame theme with links That open in the middle frame.

This site is for a community development organization. The same three frame theme linked to another internal site for the faith based organization that runs the organization.

Web site design

This is a concept for my corporate site, True Platinum Web Design Inc. This was one of the first sites done with Dreamweaver.
