When it comes to covering Dubai, AIN has earned its place in the sun.

Every day of the show, in every one of our three daily issues, AIN invests more in our readers—your customers.

An investment that includes three times more reporters and photographers than any other publication at the show. More solid news instead of canned p.r. pronouncements. More distribution outlets to get the magazine seen—slid under your customers' hotel room doors every morning, displayed in their hotel lobbies, and handed out at every entrance and stand at the exhibition.

AIN stands out in Dubai by investing in the folks attending Dubai.

Which is why they invest their time reading AIN.

Will AIN sizzle at Dubai while others remain lukewarm?

Consider the following cool facts.

AIN fuels its coverage with three times more reporters and photographers than anyone else at the show. AIN's three daily issues serve up good, solid news, not reheated p.r. leftovers.

AIN lights a fire under distribution: First thing every morning, our daily issues slide under every hotel room door, get displayed in every hotel lobby, and get handed out at every entrance and stand at the exhibition.
