

 010920 Site

Hello,

I am sending you the address of a web site. It is very rare that I distribute web addresses and I promise to never use this distribution list to propagate forwards. I have made an exception for this site because it puts into powerful pictures what I tried to explain is going on at the embassy here in Copenhagen and elsewhere.

What is amazing is that last night on the BBC they showed demonstrations in Iran to support those who were lost in the attack. For the first time since the revolution in Iran, the chant "death to America" has been left off of the morning prayers. Either they are scared or more likely they want to distance themselves from the terrorists. Either way, it is causing changes in the world; some for the better.

Jeff
