became my counseling. All I had to do is look inside my mind and be creative. I can open my eyes and see beauty and colors. Like I always used to think my skin was just dark brown but I can see now I am a variety of color.”
— inmate Charles Mosby

Art
is a powerful weapon against the escalating efforts to dehumanize prisoners.

Cellblock Visions
is a lively collection of inmate artwork, created behind bars, from county jail cells to death row.

Poster created for Criminal Justice program at Lycoming College, created with indesign
