

In 1999, Donegal Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church (USA) and Umtata Presbytery of the Uniting Presbyterian Church of Southern Africa began a partnership.

A garden plot project has begun on the land owned by the Sommerville Congregation. There potatoes, butternut squash, carrots, onions and pumpkins will be grown and sold to a ready, local market. With unemployment near 50% in the very rural villages around Umtata, the project will improve nutrition and provide much needed jobs.
