The Miami University Alumni Association Ornament 2005 - Shriver Center

The Phillip R. Shriver Center, formerly known as the University Center or "The Res," as it was commonly called, was completed in 1957. The center was designed to serve as a social, cultural and recreation center. In June of 1981 during Reunion Weekend, the University Center was renamed for Dr. Shriver, Miami's 17th president. Numerous renovations followed, resulting in a facility that hosts many students, faculty and University guests. Shriver Center now houses the Haines Food Court, a formal dining room, bookstore, commuting student center, study lounge, game room, and student organization offices.
