

ecco London

Hi Ecco London! We have good and bad news: First the bad - ULU apparently is very slow in the recognition process so that we still do not have their final "go" for ecco as a ULU society. Now the good news: - no matter what, ecco is going to be a society to be heard of: The board has set out a strategy and a plan of action and we already could win a distinguished speaker for an ecco lecture.

1.) General meeting postponed to Wednesday, 26 November, 7:00pm

Due to the slow recognition process, we will meet next week instead of this week. Please bear with us and meet with all ecco members next Wednesday, 26 November, at 7pm at University of London Union (Malet Street). The room will be announced shortly.

2.) The Canadian Ambassador for Sustainable Development at LSE on Thursday, 20 November

We certainly do not want to keep you from demonstrating against a promoter of some very unsustainable policies, G.W. Bush, but there is also a very interesting lecture tomorrow at LSE: The Canadian Ambassador for Sustainable Development will present Canada's views on Sustainable development: 1.00-2.30pm in D302, Clement House on the Aldwych. Yvonne Rydin, the organiser of this event, has invited all interested members of ecco.

3.) ecco London secured first speaker

David Still, Chairman of the British Wind Energy Association, experienced in industry as well as in government, announced that he is happy to come for an ecco event. Alexander Badinski contacted him - good work! Now it is up to us to define an interesting setting - defining the specific question for a talk and/or inviting other speakers for a panel discussion...

If you know anyone who might have a say in what sustainability really is about, please tell us at the next meeting!

4.) Minutes of the board meeting

Helen has put together so comprehensible minutes of the ecco board meeting last week, that there is almost no point telling you about it in length at the next meeting.

Please see the attachment! Have a look what we consider the priorities for ecco, appreciate ecco's transparency ;-) and give us your feedback! You can do this using the...

5.) New ecco mailing list

You can write e-mails to the board (feedback, suggestions, poems, etc.) using this list:

ecco_london@yahogroups.com

Your e-mail address will be included in that list as soon as you wish. You can either tell us at the next meeting or write to Ralph (xxxxxx) who administers that list.

All the Best,
Max and Janosch
