C-1. Authorization The Texas State Guard (TXSG) is authorized six (6) regional MP brigades. Brigade commanders are under the command supervision of a designated Deputy Commander, Texas State Guard.

C-2. Capabilities A brigade headquarters is capable of command and control of three (3) detachments in support of homeland security/homeland defense. A brigade headquarters can provide command and control for community support missions when required and assumes responsibility for armories and other facilities in the brigade area of operations when directed by the Adjutant General. Additionally, a brigade can support other elements of the Texas Military Forces within or outside the brigade area of operations, on a limited basis.

C-3. Support Brigade headquarters provides supervision and assistance in administrative matters, and command and control issues, contingency planning, training guidance, mission assignment, food service, and logistic support for all its subordinate detachments. A brigade is dependent upon HQ, TXSG for support to draw equipment and supplies from State resources. Medical support is provided from the TXSG Medical Reserve Corps.

C-4. Authorization Each brigade is authorized three (3) detachments organized as a Regional Support Detachment (RSD), Volunteer Coordination Detachment (VCD) and an Infrastructure Protection Detachment (IPD)

C-5. Detachment Capabilities Individual detachments are capable of supporting 2 RSD teams, the VCD can provide continuous volunteer coordination/donation reception for 7 to 10 days and the IPD can provide 2 trained teams all in support of homeland security or homeland defense. Up to 12 Shelter Management teams comprised of membership from all available Detachments can be fielded, as all Brigade personnel will be shelter management trained. Community service missions will be supported based upon availability of resources.

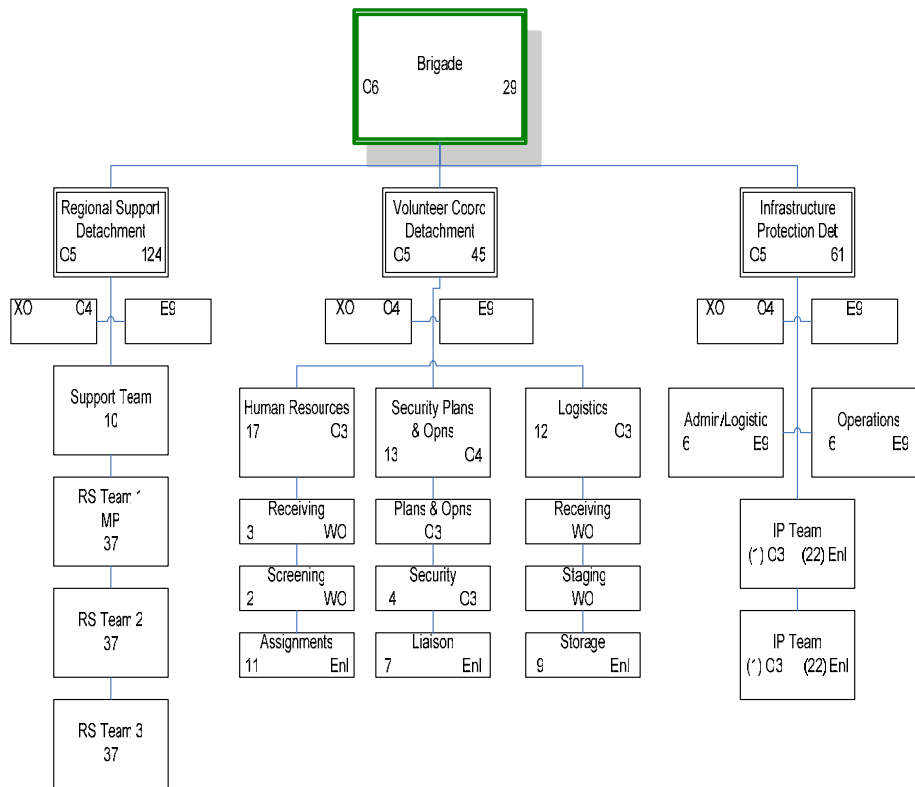

C-6. Detachment Placement Geographical placement of Detachments is accomplished through orders from HQ, TXSG. Only the RSD can be broken into three separate complete Teams in different geographical locations from the RSD HQs. The RSD Support team will remain in the same area as the RSD HQs. The IPD will be located in the same area as the Bde HQs. The VCD can be located in a different geographical location.

C-7. Detachment Support A detachment provides supervision and assistance in administrative matters, and limited command and control. Sustained logistical and food service support is provided or coordinated by higher headquarters. Medical support is provided from the TXSG Medical Reserve Corps.
