Starting from Partha

Players:

Myshka (me) - Elf Archer

Drako (Santiago) - Human Druid

Beaudan (Yllaria) - Human Fighter

Lam (Roger) - Human Cleric/Rogue

Sprocket (Rick) - Human Sorcerer

Saotome (Ben) - Half-Elf Fighter

Day 1

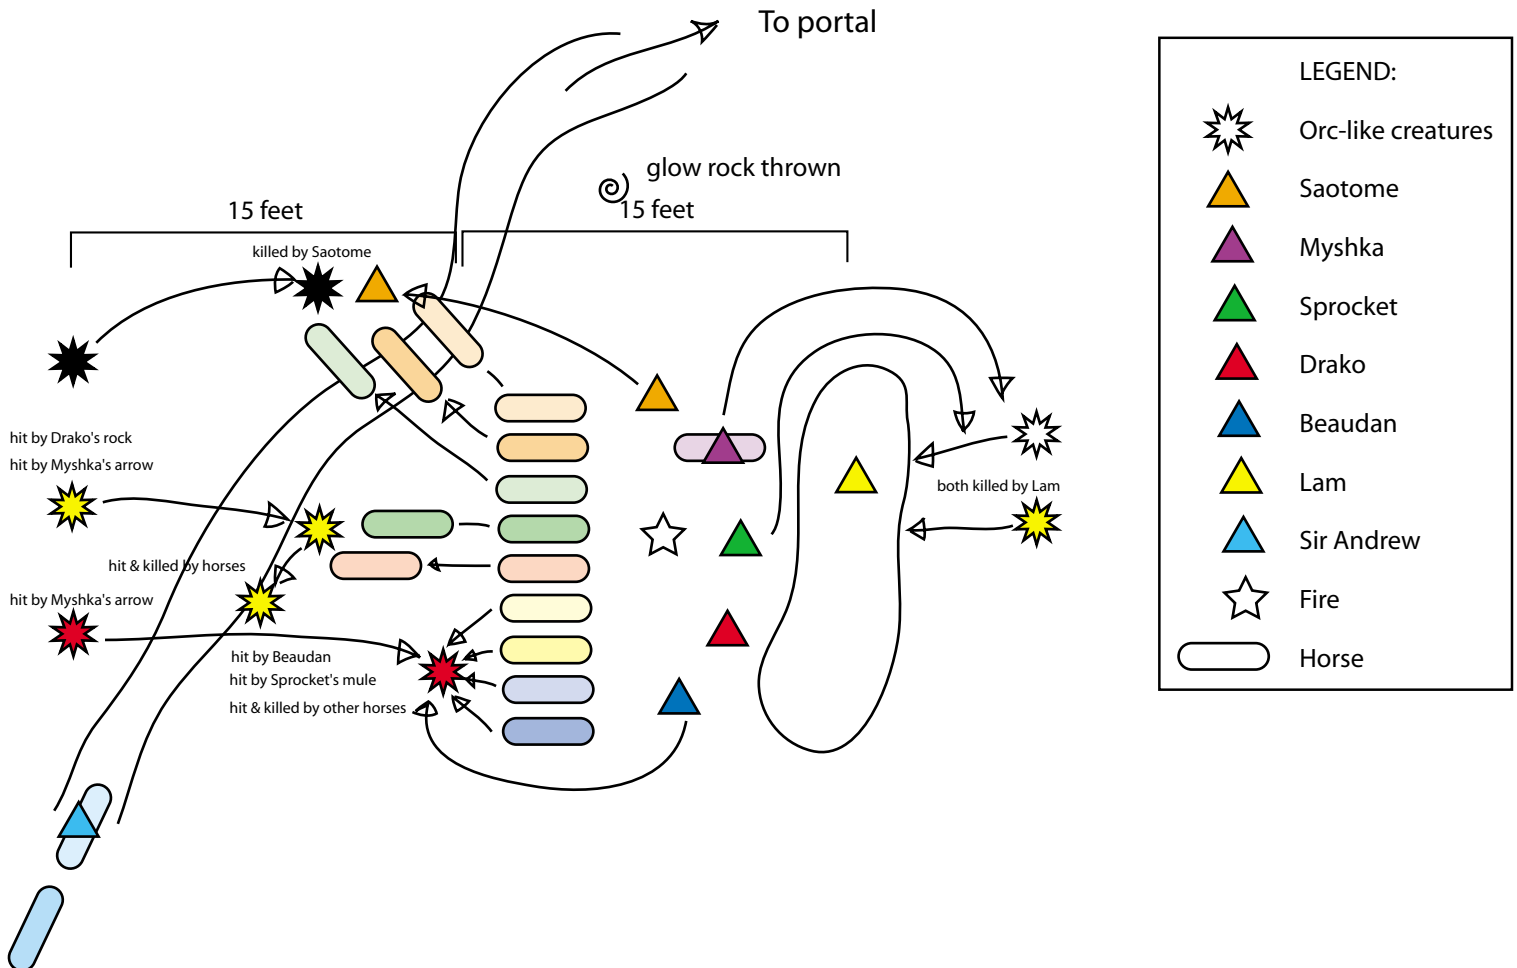

Partha to transporter. Stopping off at Village of Sages to gather information:

During the time of "Age of Chaos", there was a Blue stone that was placed into a crown of red and gold. Rudari - last know spot of where it was reportedly destroyed. The stone glows really bright; can't see directly at it. Many ghostly creatures would come out from the stone and shriek. They darted wildly and with great speed. They killed anyone it came into contact with. White robed man had the blue stone that was enveloped into the earth. Either destroyed or carried deep into the deep earth.

Traveled north west to portal circles.

On second night of camping we encountered 5 large orc-like creatures.

BATTLE ON PARTHA ROAD

1,000 c.p. total on four of the creatures (look like orcs - snout w/large tusks)
1 gem on leader (orc) - blue quartz worth 12 g.p.
[450 x.p. each + 66 x.p. for loot]
1 scroll w/arcane magic symbols on it.

Saotome leaves the group.
And we pick up Sir Andrew (Herbert) - Human Fighter

Another day goes by - nothing; and another uneventful night. We get to the portal platform and chose "Dell of Flowers". After spending a couple of hours riding through the forests and plains we came upon two-10' giants. They ran away because Sprocket threw a ration bar at them. So we went back to the portal platform in fear of meeting the possible parents of the two mini giants.

We went to "Gladwyn". The land had a huge forest with dense trees and two days away is a river, and a huge mountain. We decided to make camp for the day. While mulling around, I find a 4' rock wall with heavy overgrowth. Lam uses a spell and locates a long sword 3' down in the dirt. The sword is Lawful.

We find out that the sword can speak magically, so we ask it a series of questions:

How old is the sword? 14th Age; 783 [currently in 6th; 135]

Who was the name of its last wielder? Balorate Casalenta of Asgulio (human)

What is your purpose? One of 3 brothers; to spread law and neutrality throughout the land.

What land are you currently in? (speaks in a different language) Land of the Happy & Glad Elves

How many wielders has it had? 14

Have you a name? Tarn - brother of Law (gold)

Who was your greatest Champion? Pacion Hawasin the Wise

What happened to killed your last wielder? One night hags came and killed my wielder.

Any of your previous wielders Elves? Yes, some.

The one who made you an elf? No

Names of your other two brothers?

Narn - brother of Chaos (BLADE OF FROST); Varn - brother of Neutrality (BLADE OF ELECTRICITY).

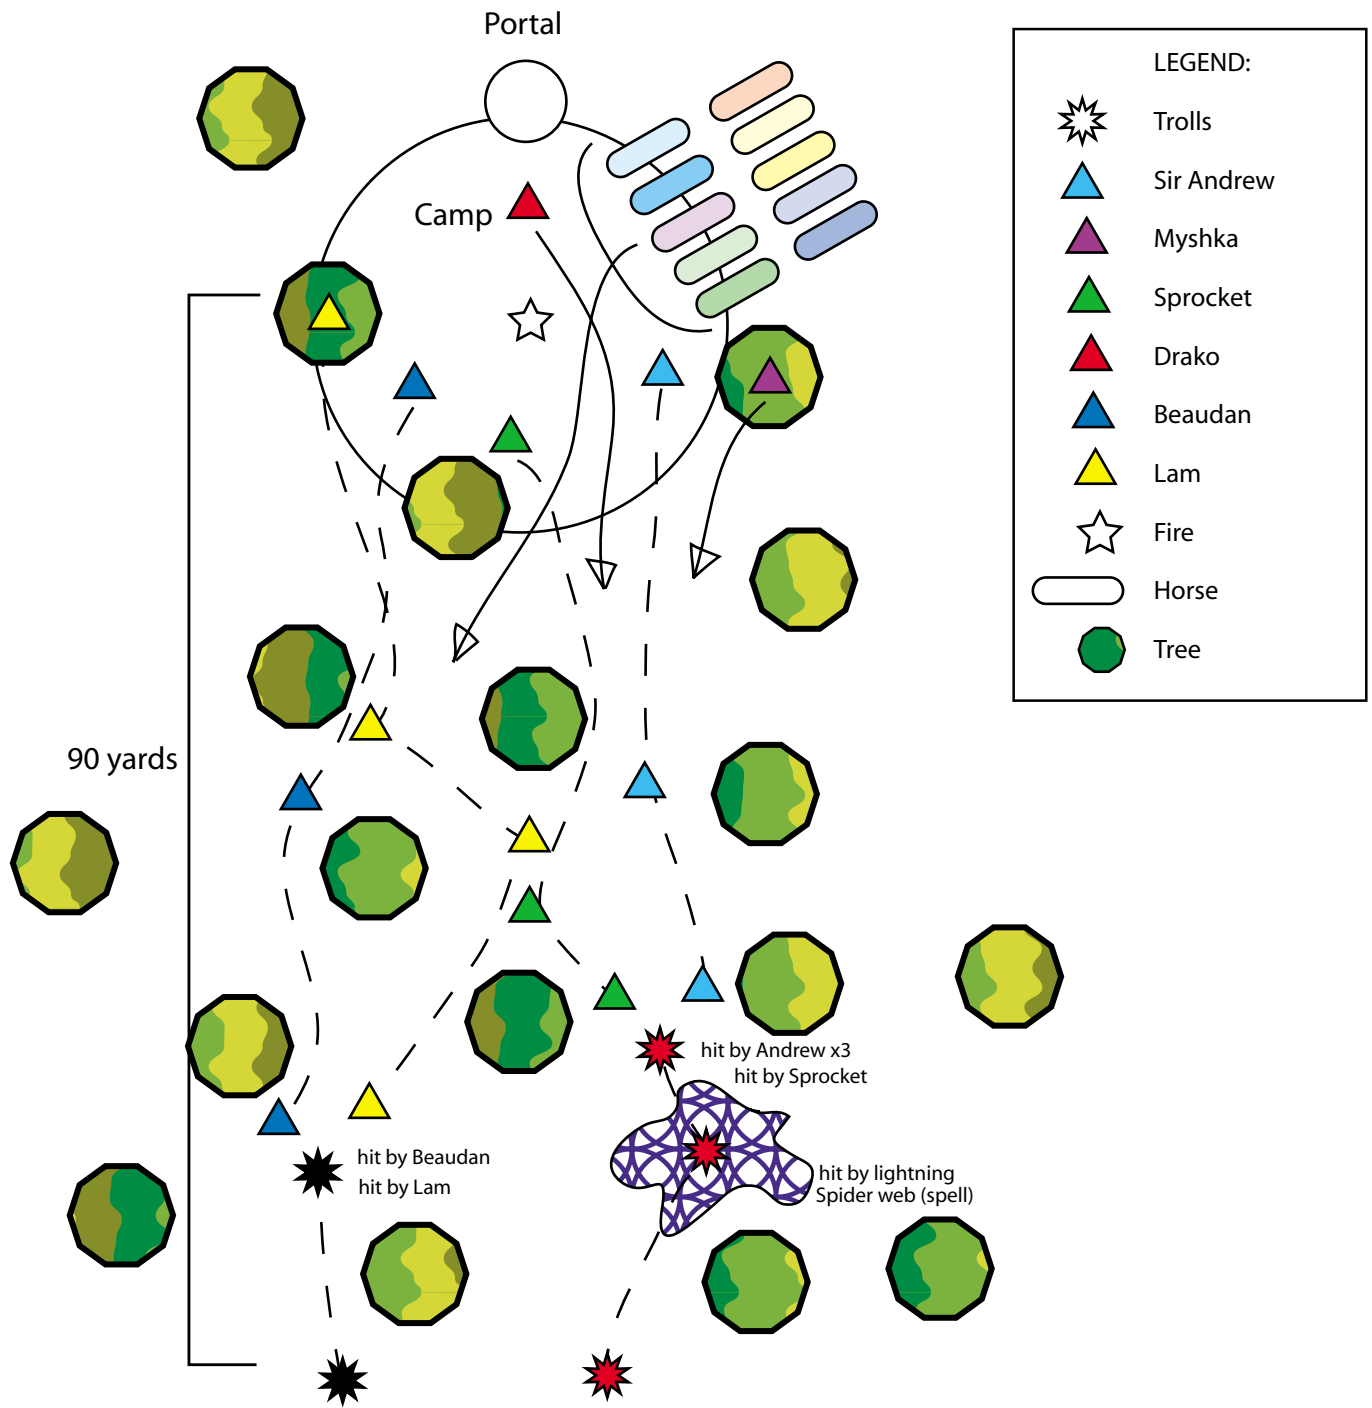

All swords can sense any alignment.

Tarn sword abilities: +4; produce light (torch); BLADE OF FLAMES; does additional damage to Chaotic alignments; will do better with a Lawful (character) person. Emits a blue glow whenever a chaotic alignment is near. It can cast a protection shield spell against chaotic alignment characters. 2d6 damage against chaotic foes.

Elven city was here full of open buildings and towers within the forest.
Dwarves came through the elven city.

We made camp. And on third watch Sprocket notices two bipeds walking towards us. Plus the horses started to whine and get nervous.

BATTLE IN GLADWYN

Sprocket uses his flaming sword to kill the Trolls permanently.

[400 xp each; 200 gp; 1 - irregular small purl; 1 - nice piece of coral; 1 - flawless blue diamond = 1,058 xp.]

Went back through the portals to "Partha". From "Partha" to "Temple of Many Ways" to "Xan".

End - still shopping in Xan.
