

A True-Blue Tale

Who remembers when the entire Apprentice body was paraded in front of the Naden Apprentice School - circa 1960? Don't remember the officer's name addressing us but he was Royally ticked off and looking for the guilty party who smeared Machinist Blue on a toilet seat in the Heads. My guess is none of the rank and file wore the bluing, rather it was someone else from the other team. Get it?? Did anyone 'fess up to the dastardly deed? I think not but we all enjoyed a great chuckle.
