IF HE'S THE ONE
By

If he's the one you really love, then don't cry over me.
I'll carry on some how, I'll manage dear you'll see.
I may cry myself to sleep at night, My heart may break in two.
But don't worry, what matters most is you.

Can you be happy in his arms, like the days gone by?
Or will your heart remember, all the times he made you cry?
Do you believe he's sorry, and his love is true?
Or will he do it again, and make a fool of you.

Darling if you feel, that he's the one,
All you have to do is tell me and I'll be gone.
If he's the one I'll leave but for a moment hold my hand,
There will be no hard feelings, if he's the one I'll understand.

Back in my younger days, I broke a heart in two.
Then turned her love away, so I could love you.
I know I did her wrong, Now you're doing me that way.
But it's all in love, that's the price I'll have to pay.
