You'll Leave It All Behind
by Marianna Schifferdecker & Sammie Lee Marler

You've slaved from early morning.
Your troubles never seem to end.
You've burned the midnight oil.
You've overdone again.
Take time out from worry,
And forget the daily grind,
Because the day will come
When you'll leave it all behind.

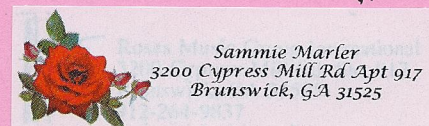

Chorus:

Don't let troubles trouble you.
There's going to come a time
when it won't matter anymore,
And you'll leave it all behind.
Enjoy life while you can,
Because some day you'll find
That at that final judgment
You'll leave it all behind.

You may store up riches,
And men will envy you,
But they'll be hard to find
when you need a friend or two.
The day will come when you'll be free
From cares of any kind.
Don't sit upon your treasures,
Because you'll leave it all behind.

Repeat Chorus:
