

There is a list somewhere of famous people who I've shared with or sold to. This is an addition to those wise and good souls who I have had the fortune to know. Call it an honorary rolling paper of those departed plus one. There have been many of humanity's benefactors who expanded their consciousness. Those alive who wish to volunteer to be so listed please contact me. I understand if you want to wait until after my release or the Inquisition's end.

Honor Rolling Paper of Fame

Robert Anton Wilson- a good friend and author of 34 books some screenplays, poetry and works on physics, James Joyce, conspiracy theory and psychology. He had a Ph.D in psychology and wrote for Playboy. He called himself a stand up metaphysician and performed well when I booked him at comedy clubs and university auditoriums and not to be redundant Libertarian Party conventions.

Once at a New Age conference he said to his audience that someone had some herb that was so good that JC was known to smoke it and was hoping it was available that evening. That was when Johnny Carson was hosting the Tonight show. Knowing that he was referring to me I later came to him and thanked him for the plug. I then asked if that meant that I was the master who made the grass green or the master who had the green grass. When he replied "yes" it was then I became enlightened.

Bill Bradford- founder, publisher and editor of Liberty magazine which is the magazine of the libertarian dialogue which has included Milton Friedman, Murray Rothbard and many other writers. He was extraordinarily helpful and kind in helping me with my first major published piece in Liberty. This was my autobiography and was written under house arrest. Whether he had cancer when he bought from me I don't know since he never told me but I would have been happy to have given him a medical discount. I gave him the joke that he used in a column once that goes like this; Third party politics is to politics as the Special Olympics is to the Olympics.

John Perry Barlow-who is not Dead yet but was a lyricist for the Grateful Dead and gave me permission to use his name. I met him through Timothy Leary. He is now a spokesman and vice president of the Electronic Freedom Foundation and a fellow libertarian. He was the author of the Declaration of Independence of Cyberspace and has written for Wired and other media. He was kind enough to bail me out of prison. He was a GOP county chairman in Wyoming where he was a cattle farmer before he became a cognitive dissident.

John F Kennedy Jr. - son of the assassinated president, former publisher of George magazine, questionable pilot and inheritor of the Kennedy curse. He was, by all accounts, a very nice guy and his block was awash with memorials when he died. The GOP tried to recruit him to run for the US Senate but he refused. He could have been today the candidate for president from either party. He would rather turn the camera around and report on politics. He was an employer and employee of Barlow's. I named a variety of herb after Kennedy's dad called Grassy Knoll. Three hits from here and your brain goes to New Frontiers
