

Foley Folio Follies

Representative Mark Foley (what he was representing I leave up to you) had to leave his office (orifice?) using the back door due to obscene e-mail (He-mail?) messages sent to teen-age boys working as pages for Congress. Perhaps in olden times pages were assigned knightly duties

Foley was the received head of the subcommittee on exploited and missing of children. Now his exploits are known to all with nothing missing. Talk about Congressional oversight!

We should have expected it since the first five letters of his name blows it (Foley-atio). A Mark-ed man, indeed.

While in the Electoral College Foley majored in oral and computer communications with a minor in sex. When he got in a position he gave his students a pass. But only to those who measured up. But that's what you expect from a ruler.

In this dangerous time when everyone seems to be getting Federal AIDS did they check his computer for viruses? Especially the HIV (Housc Internet = Vacancy) which is especially contagious through various media.

I take exception to being forced to associate with perverts, money launderers and thieves in prison. What do they think this place is Congress?

I was surprised that Foley was caught by messages from his computer. I thought all Congressional computers had an en-corruption key. This is how you enter Congress is through a lobby. It's a longer distance than it seems but you pay for it not by paying a bill but sponsoring a bill. Their e-mail is junk-et mail

Foley's phone (which will soon be a cell phone) has some interesting features:

- (1) SEND PAGE now connects to a call service with Boys and girls in a bi- (buy?)partisan measure for a disorderly house (see Barney Frank).
- (2) Upon connection with a PAGE this device has a vibrator and will disconnect in case of emergency such as a call from the police.
- (3) On this device you can access the internet without turning on the parental controls so as not to interfere with Acts of Congress.

Foley was about to get a little behind in Congress and it looks like his fellow GOP members will also be behind. Maybe they will make it into the pages of history.

Foley has been offered a position as lobbyist for Michael Jackson. When they read a bill in Congress, Foley will turn the pages. Michael will then sing "Beat It" and maybe get a record.

In prison a pedophile is called a tree jumper. Foley, thou he made naughty memos did not pounce on anyone. Maybe he should be called a Bush-jumper.

The media has been too hard on Foley. He was willing to go all the way for his boys. All he wanted was inches and what he got was de-feet. Perhaps we'll see him in the prison yard.

The GOP (Grand Old Perverts) seems to have switched its approach from approaching minorities to approaching minors. This should assure them of minority status and I thought that the Libertarians were the minor party but I'm rather Green here. Going after the Liber-teens and those who were rather green does give him the first blush of youth and much to blush afterward. Foley turned down the Libertarians when he found out that libertines were not the youth affiliate and that Libertarians have always viewed Congressional involvement as an opportunity to get violated.

When the Democrats control Congress (since the Republicans can't control theirs) will Nancy Pelosi in becoming the first woman speaker of the House be that House of Ill Repute's first Madam? If she succeeds in delivering enough favors she could then become the first Vice president.

If the GOP doesn't want to get scalped again in the next election they may have to de-Foley-ate themselves. The GOP has found out that being close to a Bush is not as good as having a Bush yourself as women come (cum?) to power.

Perhaps the vice president is involved as well. I have heard of Chain-e-mail scams. But I don't know Dick. And I don't want to go hunting to find out.

It all goes to show that when a politician proclaims his honesty; watch your wallet. When a politico announces his steadfast defense of youth and morality; lock up your daughters and sons. When he announces his goal to defend peace throughout the world; buy defense stocks. And when a Son of a Bush says he wants to defend liberty and privacy; renew your passport and change your encryption key.
