

November 19, 2007

No minutes to report. Members spent the night working on items to go into our display case. Unfortunately, because of several glitches with the printer, not a whole lot was accomplished. To make matters worse, the back piece was destroyed and had to be thrown out. That means that next meeting on Monday is the ABSOLUTE last chance to get something done before the deadline. If you can come to the meeting, please do so. And if you can bring supplies or pictures/quotes, please do so.

Thanks,

Steve
