Religion

Five Pillars of Islam

The practice of Islam is based upon five pillars:

Islamic Flag Meanings

Muslims often fly colored flags to observe various holidays or dates of personal significance. Each color carries a specific meaning. Green is the color of Islam and is particularly meaningful to the Shia.

- MOSQUE: Muslim house of worship.
- SUNNI and SHIA: Two main branches of Islam.
- SHIA: Form majority of Muslims in Iraq, but less than 10% globally.
- SUNNI: Call their religious leaders Imams, but to Shia, the Imam is a supreme religious leader descended from Mohammad.
- SHARIA: Muslim law.
- FATWA: An order from a Muslim religious leader.
- WAHABIS: Puritanical Muslims from the Hanbali school of Sunni Islam. Never shave their beards.
- MADRASSAH: Islamic educational system.

Do This

In General

- ✓ Shake hands gently in greeting and departure, but always with your right hand.
- ✓ Respond to a woman's greeting only when she initiates the contact. Allow her to shake hands using only her fingertips.
- ✓ Refer to the entire family when making inquiries, well wishes, or blessings.
- ✓ Be patient; the Iraqi approach to time is slow and relaxed.

In Iraqi Homes

- ✓ Try all food offered to you, even if in small portions. Feel free to ask about the cuisine or its preparation.
- ✓ Appear relaxed and friendly; social interaction is critical in building trust.

As A Guest

- ✓ Be gracious; do not appear anxious to leave.
- ✓ Offer profuse thanks to host and wish his family well.
- ✓ Arrive on time for meetings, but expect casual conversation and a gradual approach to a business discussion.

Cultural Customs

Honor and Shame

Admitting "I Don't Know" is shameful for an Iraqi.

Constructive criticism can be taken as an insult.

Women will often wear head scarves as a show of respect, even if wearing Western clothing. Women are rarely without a male relative or friend for escort.

Family

Family is the center of honor, loyalty, and reputation.

Men are always the head of the family. No direct attention should be given to female relatives.

Personal Space

Iraqis do not share an American concept of "personal space" in public situations, and in private meetings or conversation. It is considered offensive to step or lean away from an Iraqi.

Women are an exception to this rule. One should not stand close to, stare at, or touch a woman.

Socialization and Trust

When conducting business, it is customary to first shake the hand of all males present, taking care to grip neither too firmly nor too meekly.

Allocate plenty of time for refreshments before attempting to engage an Iraqi in business conversation. It is important to first establish respect and trust.

Clothes / Gestures

MALE DRESS

White

Has not made the hajj, or pilgrimage to Mecca.

Black or Grey Checkered

From a country with Presidential rule (i.e. Libya or Egypt) and has made the hajj.

Red and White Checkered

FEMALE DRESS

Arab Dress

Arab women often wear Western dress with a shawl or head scarf.

Western Dress

Devout or conservative women wear a hejab, a full head covering, and an abaya, a body covering made of dark colors.

Western dress is common in urban areas, but traditional dress is still prevalent in rural Iraq.

GESTURES

Right hand over heart is a sign of respect or thanks.

Right hand, palm up, fingers touching, means to slow down or be patient.

Quick upward head snap with tongue click means no.

Don't Do This

- ✗ Don't use your left hand for contact with others, eating, or gestures. It is considered unclean.
- ✗ Don't show women attention by addressing, touching, or staring at them. Don't ask males direct questions about female relatives.
- ✗ Don't withdraw if a man greets you with a hug and a kiss. This is a common greeting among friends.
- ✗ Don't point with a finger; it is a sign of contempt. Instead, point with your entire hand.
- ✗ Don't ask a single opinion on an issue, as Iraqis often first reply with the answer they think you want to hear, rather than an honest response.
- ✗ Don't slouch, lean, or appear disinterested when conversing with Iraqi men. Do not expose the soles of feet or shoes.
- ✗ Don't back away from an Iraqi during conversation. Close personal interaction is customary and distance is considered rude.
- ✗ Don't offer a Muslim food or drink or consume either publicly during Ramadan. Never offer a Muslim alcohol or pork.
- ✗ Don't engage in religious discussions.
- ✗ Don't make the "OK" or "thumbs up" signs; they are considered obscene.
- ✗ Don't praise an Iraqi's possessions too much. He may give them to you and expect something of equal value in return.
