Growing Up

Yes, I am single...but I am not looking for a boyfriend.
Yes, I am a girl...but that doesn't mean that I want some.
Yes, I am alone and nothing comes close to being with someone.
But I know that I have people that want me:
not because of my looks...but for who I really am.
Sweet and sentimental? Hardly! Some times I want to strangle!
But I know why they do things...
just sometimes they don't understand...
I am my own person.
I am a woman.
I can kick ass when I need to!
and I am learning how to take care of myself...
But to you all that have helped me and care so much about me:
Thank you.
