Heart is aflame
It's been racking my brain
Just thinking about you
Many wonderful things you've shown
Things many tried but never reached

You're lying there peacefully
Dreaming away
I'm welling up with love
Tears flow from my eyes
Do you really know how I feel?

I know every rose has its thorn
But I hope mine never draw blood
Your last rose bled you so deep
You held on so tight
Your garden betrayed you

I don't wish to turn you away
Don't want to scare you away
I want to be there for you
As I have been
As I want to be
To kindle your life
Make it glow

I'd like to be yours forever
Only if you'll have me stay
Hand in yours
Hand on yours
Arms round each other

I feel so horrible
I've brought you into trouble
Yet you seem so at ease
It doesn't bother you
Wouldn't bring you down

We will need to be apart
It's for the better
We both agree
Though we weep inside
Longing to hold each other
Waiting for a reunion
Til then
My heart burns for you
