

I Stand

I stand by what I have.
I hear what they say.
I look back on what I had yesterday.
I missed that when I shouldn't have to.
I stand to fix what has demolished what I had.
I need your help to fix this.
I hope you remain to what you have said.
I have little faith, but it grows.
I stand by what is in repair: a friendship.
I hold onto what I have to help me move on.
I believe this can turn out better than it has.
I wish you could show us all you're truth.
I stand for what should be right when all is wrong.

July 2, 2002
CRV