

I Will Miss You

*I know this is hard for all of us.
When will we see each other again?
I, for one, do not know.
Let us hope, with all our might, that it is soon.
Let us hope, with all our heart, it will come quick,
Many will remember you, and hold the memories dear.
I know that I will miss you, this fact is clear.
Such a long road ahead of you.
So many here will miss you.
You too will remember all that has happened.
Only remember the good and do not dwell on the bad.
Understand what is new and remember what you had.*
