INTRODUCTION.

THE object of the following work is to preserve from destruction the contents of a record which has hitherto been confined to an unique manuscript, the loss of which would be irreparable.

The illustrative foot notes will show how valuable is the additional evidence to be drawn from wills, court rolls, and other like documents, in tracing pedigrees and the transfers of property. Moreover, in publishing early parochial registers, an authentic contribution is supplied to the history of a locality, and may assist the larger enquiry as to facts and personages, out of whom the story of a nation is formed.

It may be observed, with slighting attention, that these registers principally refer to the families of what Shakspeare calls "crestless yeomen"—which is a stock nevertheless that for centuries formed the backbone of English society, and from which also the greater part of the higher gentry have sprung. In these Registers some records occur of families who have thus advanced in social position.

The Churchwardens' Accounts, from 1520 to 1545, I have only just been in time to snatch from oblivion—they are written on paper, and are in a deplorably dilapidated state.

I have heartily to thank my father, the Rev. ALFRED GATTY, D.D., Vicar of Ecclesfield and Subdean of York, &c., for allowing me to transcribe these early Registers and Churchwardens' Accounts; also MICHAEL J. ELLISON, Esq., for giving me free access to the court rolls of the Manor of Hallamshire; also H. A. HUDSON, Esq., Deputy Registrar of the Will Office, York; Canon RAINE, of York; JOHN SYKES, Esq., M.D., of Doncaster; STEPHEN I. TUCKER, Esq., Rouge Croix, of the Heralds' College, London; CHARLES JACKSON, Esq., of Balby, Doncaster; and the Rev. J. W. DARNBROUGH, Rector of South Ottrington, Yorkshire, for their valuable assistance and information; and last, but not least, J. D. LEADER, Esq., F.S.A., for the interest he has taken, and the facilities he has afforded, in the publication of my work.

This, my first effort as an author, makes no pretensions to literary merit, but is a truthful statement of facts, offered in the most concise language, because the quantity of matter had to be condensed as much as possible, in order to keep the volume within a reasonable limit.

Although I cannot expect any general interest to be taken in the records of a country parish, in the centre of England, I am sure that it will find some local appreciation; and there will be here and there, in distant countries, an eye arrested by the sight of a name, which will remind its present owner that his family was once connected with the old Yorkshire village, and that his ancestors lie buried under the shadow of the "Minster of the Moors," as DODSWORTH named the Parish Church of Ecclesfield.

Any clerical errors that may occur I must ask my readers to be lenient with.

ALFRED SCOTT GATTY.

ECCLESFIELD,
July, 1878.

Cecily Whitmore. 1610.
"Deathe's sting away is taken quite by Christ his payne and smart;
Death is no death but change of light unto a righteous hart."

Robert Hurt had issue two sons—Walter, the eldest, of Haldworth, and Nicholas, who was baptized 13th Jan., 1576-7, and settled at Woodseats, in this parish, of whom more anon. The family of Smallbeehind was settled at Haldworth as early as 1393. The Robert alluded to above was son of John, son of Thomas, son of John, son of John Smallbeehind, of Haldworth, living ano. 1393.—Court Rolls.

My land at Haldworth to Roger Creswick, my 5th son, John Creswick, my 2nd son, my daughters Margaret and Frances Creswick, and Ann, wife of William Ward, Thomas Creswick, my brother-in-law, &c. His eldest son was Thomas Creswick, of Burrowlee, who was baptized 8th Feb., 1575; this baptism is from the Creswick family Bible, now in the possession of the Rev. J. W. Darnborough, rector of South Otterington, near Thirsk, who is a descendant of this family. It is impossible for me, owing to my limited space, to go into the history of the family of Creswick, which is one of the most ancient and respectable in this parish; they are so to speak indigenous to the soil, springing from a hamlet called Creswick.

The property of Barnes Hall came into the hands of this family by the will of Thomas Rotherham, Arch-Bishop of York, &c., dated 6 August, 1498, and the following clause, which applies to this estate, I give in full:—"Item volo, quod johannes Scott consanguineus meus, cui est hereditas quanquam parva, in parochia de Ecclesfield successive descendens in eodem nomine et sanguine, a tempore quo non est memoria hominum, ut ipsa augeatur, me per gratiam meliorato, habeat sibi, et heredibus masculis de corpore suo legitime procreatis, manerium meum de Barnes, situm in parochia predicta, quod emi de Roberto Shatton pro cxi lib. Ac etiam manerium meum de Howsleys cum pertinent quod emi de Thoma Wortley milite pro cxx lib. Et in defectu talium heredum, volo quod frater suus Ricardus sub eadem lege et conditione habeat predicta maneria. Et in defectu talium heredum, volo quod predicta maneria revertantur rectis heredibus meis. Item volo, quod sub eadem lege et conditione predicti johannes et Ricardus habeant tenementum meum vocatum Sugworth, in parochia de Bradfield, cum omnibus pertinent." Richard St. George, Norroy king at Arms, and others have given to this worthy prelate the patronymic of "Thomas Scott alias Rotherham," why, it is impossible to say.—It is also asserted by the above Richard St. George that John & Richard Scott, named in the Archbishop's will, both died without issue, and that George, a son of the Archbishop's brother, inherited the estates of Barnes Hall, Howsley, &c., and that he had a son John, who had a son Richard, &c., &c. Now, it is undoubted, that John Scott, father of Richard Scott, was dead ano. 1521, and the Archbishop died of the plague ano. 1500. So in 21 years the estates above alluded to must have passed through the hands of four individuals, viz., john Scott, his brother Richard Scott, George Scott the Archbishop's nephew, and john his son.—I am not aware that the plague visited Ecclesfield about this time, but certainly an epidemic of some sort must have taken place to prove St. George's statement.—I cannot see why john Scott, who was dead ano. 1521, should not be identical with the john Scott mentioned in Archbishop Rotherham's will in 1498.—Other theories have been propounded with regard to the parentage and patronymic of this prelate, but I have not space to enter upon them even were they worthy of my doing so, the most striking point about them being their boldness of assertion and utter want of evidence. The Scotts were seated at Ecclesfield at an early date, as the Archbishop asserts in his will,—these few notes from Court Rolls and deeds, &c., may tend to show this.—1270, Peter Scott, of Ecclesfield, was living; 1324, William Scott was a pensioner of the convent here; 1343, Robert Scott, of Birley, was living; 1378, john Scott and john, his son; same year, john Scott, and Margaret his wife, arrowsmith; also john Scott, and Isabella his wife, taylor; 1392, john, son of Thomas Scott, of Birley, was living; 1413—28, john Scott, of Birley, was living; 1429, johana, wife of john Shaw, seeks to be admitted to land at Birley, as being daughter of john Scott of the same; 1435, Robert Scott, of Chapeltown, was living: he had issue 3 daughters, coheirs. 1510, john Scott, of Chapeltown, was living, &c. I have no doubt but that this list could be much enlarged with a little research. For more on this subject see "Notes and Queries, 1876-7."

¹⁷¹ Hugh Hyde, judging from the churchwardens' Accounts, seems to have filled the post of grave digger to the parish, for the entry "Item to Hugh Hyde for covering — grave," is of common recurrence, and the year after his death, viz., 1592, Nicholas Man appears as "covering graves." Hugh Hyde, the subject of this note, was son of William Hyde, of Birley [vide note 92], and with a pedigree, dating back as his does in direct line from 1430, one would have thought him worthy of a higher employment than grave digging, which certainly now-a-days is not a very lofty parochial office. He was churchwarden ano. 1577.—His will is dated 31 Aug., 1591, in which he describes himself as of Grenoside, and by trade a "waller."—My goods to be divided into three parts—one to Margaret Hyde my wife—one to my children William & Alexander Hyde my sons & Margaret, Ann, & Isabel my daughters—the remaining part to myself.—To Ann Hyde my daughter "1 cowe, 1 ewe, and 2 lambes, one ribbin and one silver ringe."—To Isabel Hyde my daughter "2 ewes, 2 lambes 1 Angell of golde & 1 silver ringe."—To Alexander Hyde my son 1 pair of smith bellows.—"Ann Kendal my brother John Hyde daughter childe."—My good [God?] daughter Margaret Lee.—Ralph Richardson, Henry Sampson.—Alexander Hyde, & William Wilkinson my brethren and James Carre, William Brodhede & Ralph Lee my neighbours to be supervisors.—My brother Ralph Richardson to have the guardianship of my daughter Isabel.—Proved at York, 2 july, 1591.

According to Dodsworth, the following inscriptions were on two ancient tombstones in the South quire in Ecclesfield Church, but little of them is now remaining:—

"Orate pro anima Roberti Mountney de Cowley, armigeri, qui obiit tertio die mensis Augusti, A. M'.CCCC.xix', Cujus animæ propitiatur Deus."

"Orate pro anima johis Mountney de Cowley, armigeri, qui obiit secundo die mensis Augusti, A. Dni. M'.CCCC.xxxvii'. Cujus animæ propitiatur Deus. Amen."

There is still in existence [1878] in Ecclesfield Church, under the East window of the South quire, a pew, along the top of which is carved in relief, the following inscription:—

"Orate pro animabus Robarti Mountney et Anne uxoris eius. ac pro bono statu johannis Mountney et johanne uxoris eius, qui hoc oratorium fieri fecerunt xxiiij die mensis iulii, anno dni M.CCCC.xxxvi."

From the Court Rolls I have the following notes:—1379. Thomas Page surrenders that land in Skinnerthorpe, which was formerly in the tenure of Henry Page, to the use & behoof of John Mountney. 1380. August 2. John son of John Mountney seeks to be admitted to the lands his father held, viz.: one acre of Mattock land between Ollerton bridge and Stenebridge. 1406. May 11. John Mountney surrenders half a Bovat containing 10 Acres near Shirecliffe Park to Thomas Reson. 1441. April 18. John del More, senior, surrenders 1 Messuage, 1 cottage & 1 Bovat in Ecclesfield to Richard del More his son. 1441. October 4. Thomas Hartley surrenders 2 Messuages, 2 Bovats, and 1 field in Creswick to John Mountney, miles. 1480. April 22. Richard del More surrenders 1 Messuage, 1 cottage & 1 Bovat in Ecclesfield to Nicholas Mountney. 1480. April 22. Thomas Hill surrenders 1 Messuage, 1 Tolt, and 2 Bovats in Creswick to Nicholas Mountney, Armiger. 1499. Easter Leet, Nicholas Mountney, Armiger, surrenders 1 Messuage & certain land called Birley Hollins and 3 Acres in Birley called Andrew Carr, in taylor. 1499. September 12. Robert Mountney son & heir of John Mountney [?] miles seeks to be admitted to land at Creswick. 1543. September 21. John son & heir of Nicholas Mountney seeks to be admitted to lands in Creswick. 1543. Sept. 21. John son & heir of Nicholas Mountney, armiger seeks to be admitted to lands in Ecclesfield. 1565. December 19. Thomas Cotton, arm., and Barbara his wife surrender 1 Messuage 1 cottage & 1 Bovat now in the holding of Henry Shaw and Robert Haldham to John Mountney, gen. 1588. April 6. Ralph Croft surrenders all his customary tenements &c. within the parish of Ecclesfield to his own use for life and after his decease to the use & behoof of Nicolas Mountney of Rotherham, younger son of John Mountney, late of Creswick, deceased, with remainder to Charles Hill, of Ecclesfield, butcher; with remainder to Thomas Hill, son of Charles Hill aforesaid. 1597. January 11. At a court held at Sheffield, it is found that John Mountney, armiger, has lately died seized of 2 Messuages, & 2 Bovats in Creswick, and that Thomas Mountney is his son & heir, and of full age.—At the same court it is also shown that the same John Mountney, armiger, deceased, did surrender by the hands of Ralph Lee & Nicholas Shirecliffe, 1 Messuage, 1 cottage & 1 Bovat in Ecclesfield, which he had by the surrender of Thomas Cotton and Barbara his wife, to the use & behoof of Nicholas Mountney his son, who seeks to be admitted to the same.

The points in the Mountney pedigree on which genealogists seem most to differ are:—1. Who was Robert Mountney, of Cowley, living ano. 1499, the son of? 2. Was John Mountney, who succeeded him, his son, or a relative not so closely allied?—In Brooks' MSS. The College of Arms [r. I.C.B., fol. 246] Robert is made to be the son of Nicholas Mountney [second son of Sir John Mountney, Knt.], by Isabel, his wife, daughter of Robert Drax, of Woodhall, and that he had a brother Nicholas and a sister Isabel, who married Mr. John Denman.—Robert Mountney is made to marry Isabel, daughter of Nicholas Wortley, of Wortley, and relict of John Bosvile, of Ardsley, by whom he had issue a daughter Beatrix, wife of Robert Thwaites, of Marston. Again [93, I.C.B., fol. 30], Robert is made to be the son of Thomas Mountney [eldest son of Sir John Mountney, Knt.], by Maud, his wife, daughter of John Fitzwilliam, of Woodhall.—Robert Mountney is here made to marry Ann, daughter of Nicholas Wortley, of Wortley, and to have issue a son John Mountney, who, by his wife Joan, was father of Barbara Mountney, wife of Robert Thwaites, of Marston.—In Dugdale's visitation, ano. 1665, Robert Mountney is made to be son of Sir John Mountney, Knt., and to have issue a daughter Barbara, wife of Robert Thwaites, of Marston.—Mr. Hunter, in the pedigree of this family in his "History of Hallamshire," makes Robert Mountney to be son of Nicholas, and to have issue John, who was father of Barbara, wife of Robert Thwaites, of Marston.—Perhaps the reader, by using the evidences contained in this note, may be able to clear up these two much disputed points.

1476. Jan. 19. Perceval Creasacre, of Barnborough, mentions in his will that he wishes to be buried near to the tomb of Alice, his wife, who was daughter of Thomas Mountney. 1489. April 21. Dispensation for Robert Mountney and Isabel Boswell to marry; related twice in the 4th degree—Issued by Julian, Cardinal Bishop of Ostia. 22 Dec., 5 INNOCENT, VIII. [Test. Ebor., vol. iii., fol. 354]. Robert and Anthony Mountney were members of the Guild of Corpus Christi, in the City of York. [Surtees Soc., vol. 57, folio 174.]

INDEX OF PERSONS.

INSTRUCTIONS.

All numbers refer to the pages alone ; n. after a number means that the name occurs in a note on that page ; n., bis, &c., means that the name occurs in two notes on the same page ; the number of times the same name occurs in the same note is not indicated ; a plain number, with bis, ter, &c., after it, means that the name occurs twice or thrice, &c., on the same page.

N.B. The different modes of spelling both Christian and Surnames are not given in full in this index, but rather I have tried to bring all under as few headings as possible.
