Information was from GameShark Gabe, at http://www.railway.org/gt/gtcars.html, but extensively modified in format.

Manufacturers' Races

East City
Manufacturer	Race	N	U	P	Done	Comments
Daihatsu	Midget - Normal	N
	Mira - Normal	N
	Mira - Racing	N
	Storia - Normal	N
	Storia - Racing	N
Honda	NSX Trophy - Normal	N
	Civic Race - Normal	N
	Civic Race - Racing	N
	Beat the Beat - Normal	N
	Type R Meeting - Normal	N		P
	Challenge S2000 - Normal	N
	Challenge S2000 - Racing	N
Mazda	RX-7 - Normal	N
	Roadster - Normal	N
	Roadster - Racing	N
	Demio - Normal	N
	Demio - Racing	N
	AZ-1 - Normal		U
Mitsubishi	Mirage - Normal	N
	Mirage - Racing	N
	Evolution - Normal	N
Nissan	Silvia & 180SX - Normal	N
	Silvia & 180SX - Racing	N
	Pulsar - Normal	N
	Skyline R34 - Normal	N
	March - Normal	N
	March - Racing	N
	GT-R - Normal	N
	GT-R - Racing	N

Subaru	Alcyone (SVX) Challenge - Normal		U
	Alcyone (SVX) Challenge - Racing		U
	Impreza Challenge - Normal	N
Suzuki	Alto Works Cup - Normal	N
	Alto Works Cup - Racing	N
	Cappuccino Cup - Normal		U
	Cappuccino Cup - Racing		U
Tommy Kaira	ZZ-S - Normal	N
	ZZ-S - Racing	N
Toyota	Celica - Normal	N
	Celica - Racing	N
	Starlet - Normal	N
	MR-S - Normal	N
	Altezza - Normal	N
	Altezza - Racing	N
	Vitz - Normal	N
	Vitz - Racing	N

"N", "U", and "P" stand for "New", "Used" and "Prize" respectively, and indicate where you can or must find the car. I might get it entirely filled in some time. The important ones are ones where "N" is not available, but you must either find the car used, or win it as a prize.

Note that an additional aggravation is that very often prizes which it seems should be eligible are not. For example, the Mine’s R34 Skyline GT-R cannot enter the R34 Race (although it can enter the GT-R Race!?!?!). (And it really cleans up, I might add)