

Biography

Harold K. Chandler was born in Northwest, Washington, D.C. where he grew up in the Takoma neighborhood. His parents, Jimmie and Velma Chandler, moved from West Point, Mississippi to Washington where they raised their three children.

Harold attended DC Public Schools through grade 6 before attending John Nevins Andrews School in Takoma Park, Maryland. Subsequently, as a high school student at Takoma Academy, he began to study voice under Jon Gilbertson and performed at many school events there and at his home church, The First Church of Seventh-day Adventists in Washington, D.C.

While completing his BBA in Business Management at LaSierra University, he studied voice under the late Wilbert Howard. Harold later completed the Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Phoenix, Maryland Campus.

Harold resides in Howard County, Maryland with his wife, Swinitha and two children, Jasmine and Ian. He currently serves as the Director of Finance and Accounting for College Summit, Inc. He remains active in music and communications with the ministries of the Reaching Hearts Church.

Worship Services

Harold does not charge to perform for regular worship services. He does accept donations toward travel expenses especially if you are distant from the Laurel Area.

Weddings

Harold performs a wide array of romantic and sacred songs appropriate for weddings. He will work with you or your coordinator to choose the songs most appropriate for your ceremony.

Special Programs

From fundraising concerts and annual banquets for your organization to singing the National Anthem for your sports team, Harold is ready to provide a strong, inspirational performance for you.
