'Spurning Bigotry'

Toastmaster - Mike Meynadasy

We had a full meeting with three speeches.

First up was David Johnson with his speech entitled 'Ingredient for Love'. David spoke about two types of love, human and divine. Human love focuses on demands and expectations and harbors doubt and fear. Divine love is unconditional love. A conscious awareness of who we are and to give what we are unconditionally.

Tony Mannion spoke next about 'Consultative Selling'. Profit improvement selling targeting high margins...this is all about the way we sell. Implementation and results, quantifying value and targeting financial people in an organization. Recommended changes must result in cost savings. Seek opportunities for consultative selling, demonstrate, and then observe to become an asset to the organization and learn by doing.

The last speaker was Gordon Penniston with his speech titled 'Get Ready for An A-Maze-ing Time'. Gordon spoke about the A-Maze-ing journeys of a Toastmasters regional conference. He shared the excitement and learning experience a conference of this caliber offers our members. The Regional VI Conference will be held on June 1 & 2, 2007 located at the Hyatt in Downtown Rochester.

Dave Johnson won best speaker and Juls Foos won for best evaluator.

October 19, 2006

'Chivalrous Deeds'

Toastmaster - Clayton Millard

October 19th was another full meeting with three speeches.

Mike Meynadasy delivered his speech titled 'Change is Coming' on the newly introduced CL program initiated by Toastmasters International. Mike explained some of the new roles and passed out very helpful information to assist our members with this transition. Thank you Mike...most helpful.

Jared Kronenberg gave his speech #6, Vocal Variety titled 'Eye of the Tigger'. Jared lead us thru the forest and allowed us to explore our own Hundred Acre Woods character. Jared began his speech with a bounce and asked, "Are you a Tigger or are you an Eeyore?" All of the forest animals have special traits such as TM members and our roles. Let's make TM our Hundred Acre Woods.

Bill Allen spoke about his thoughts on Chivalrous Deeds and shared a story from his childhood.

Jared won best speaker and Gordon won for best evaluator.
