

Profile

HIROSHI FUKUSHI

Nationality	Japanese/ Male
Experience	President of a fertilizer company in Thailand President of a rubber-lining company in Thailand Director of a food company in Thailand Technical development manager in a pharmaceutical factory in USA Associate deputy manager in a food company in Tokyo
Academic Record	Master in Chemical Engineering at Hokkaido University, Japan MBA at University of Southern Queensland , Australia Ph. D. candidate at Rushmore University
Hobby	Rugby, Golf,

Why I chose Rushmore to help me to reach my goals and earn my degree.

I have already earned an MBA from the University of Southern Queensland, Australia by 100% online studies. An MBA education improves people's general business skills, it is great actually, however I am not yet satisfied. I need to have a Ph.D. to show my professional ability. I have two reasons for choosing Rushmore. The first reason is the chance to write books. I am interested in writing business books and educational programs and hope that, through the Ph.D. program, I can brush up my writing skills to the professional level and find out more about actually writing books. I also want to be a faculty of universities to teach online students and translate good English business books into Japanese. I think Rushmore University fits for this practical purpose. The first is that Rushmore University offers one of the most flexible online Ph. D. programs. I am very busy in both my business and private life. Considering the time available for study, the Rushmore program seems to be my best choice. I have chosen a university which pursues efficiency of time and cost and excellence of individuals instead of the fame of the university. Rushmore gives even the busiest person an opportunity to earn a Ph.D.

The subjects and areas of special interest I plan to study.

I am interested in business in general. For this time, I want to get Ph.D. and want to be writing books and teaching students. I started translating a book and I started writing books in English. The first dissertation of mine will be The Environmentally Sustainable Business and I will be a Ph.D. of environmentally sustainable business, which I believe is the most important business ethics and value in the 21st century.