

POLLING OF NATIONS

The President of the United States in 2046
is in elementary school right now.
Let's hope she's having a good day.

~Anonymous

Our global village is shrinking. We must prepare the next generation for their pivotal role in the global economy. Polling of Nations encompasses the social, economic, and policies of governments and communities in our world today. As educators, we have been charged with the responsibility of preparing the next generation for their leadership role in the global community. Information is power and Polling of Nations will give our students the tools to make informed decisions in the years to come.
