

September 2nd, 1851

Diary Entry #307

Patrick Jr. was finally born into the world! Mary and I are both very excited to have had our first child. He seems to be a strong one, hopefully he can work for me at the forge someday. For now, we shall raise him. I almost do not believe it, my very own son!