

Nienor Níniel

Nienor Níniel, The Tear-maiden, Daughter of Húrin and Morwen; travelling from Doriath in search of her brother Túrin, she came under the dragon-spell of Glaurung. Fleeing to Brethil, she found Túrin there, but because of the spell failed to recognise him, and unwittingly wedded him. On realising her doom she cast herself over the brink of Caded-en-Aras and a splash of white swallowed her in the dark chasm, a cry lost in the roaring of the RIVER.

