

Gríma Wormtongue

...You are held wise, my friend Wormtongue, and are doubtless a great support to your master,' answered Gandalf in a soft voice. 'Yet in two ways may a man come with evil tidings. He may be a worker of evil; or he may be such as leaves well alone, and comes only to bring aid in time of need!...

...At his feet upon the steps sat a wizened figure of a man, with a pale wise face and heavy-lidded eyes....

