

CALCULUS – Worksheet #4

1. Go home and hug your parents (each of them individually and separately) and tell them that you love them without first divulging that it is part of an assignment in this class. On your homework put this:

#1. Your parents' reactions, and then list what happened and what was said.

#2. Ask each of your parents about the greatest event in their lives, and also ask them what was the worst event in their lives.

It is optional to list their worst events.

#3. Choose someone that you know and like, a person whom you have not recently told you value, and tell them that you value them—in your own words. Put the name of the person and his/her reaction.

CALCULUS – Worksheet #4

1. Go home and hug your parents (each of them individually and separately) and tell them that you love them without first divulging that it is part of an assignment in this class. On your homework put this:

#1. Your parents' reactions, and then list what happened and what was said.

#2. Ask each of your parents about the greatest event in their lives, and also ask them what was the worst event in their lives.

It is optional to list their worst events.

#3. Choose someone that you know and like, a person whom you have not recently told you value, and tell them that you value them—in your own words. Put the name of the person and his/her reaction.