To Whom it may concern:

I would like to thank you for looking at my resume. As you can see I have worked in various different types of jobs both by contract and by employment. I plan on someday going to lawschool and feel that gaining a knowlede of different types of industries and jobs is very helpful and can lead to a well balanced mind. I would be intersted in working in a law office or in that case any industry where I can learn and grow. I personally believe the lessons that can be learned are more important than the check I recieve at the end of the pay period. If you have any positions available I would be glad to discuss this with your company.

Thank Your For This Opportunity,

Sincerely,
