

Jensen Interceptor Mk3 in a Guinness Beer TV Advertisement

This is not a misprint. It really did happen. At the end of 2000, a Guinness Beer advert was filmed in Sydney. The plot was pretty shallow and finished with a naked man running down the backstreet with 'gangster like' figures in quick pursuit. The advert was 'shot' at a cost of $500,000 and was shown across Australia during 2001 and 2002.

It all logically adds up to an advertisement promoting Guinness Beer (of course).

The Jensen Interceptor Mk3 in question is 2241/9667 and is an active Jensen Car Club of Australia vehicle.

If you ever get the chance to see this advert again, please concentrate closely ...because if you blink, you'll miss this rare cameo performance!
