

Homework set I:

“Problems suggested” are listed in order to give you a general idea of what I feel is “fair game” for quizzes and exams. These problems, or similar problems from this text or other sources, may appear on quizzes or exams. “Problems suggested” will not be collected. You are encouraged to work them and keep them in some organized fashion for your own study. During quizzes, you will be allowed to look at problems you have worked, but you will not be allowed to use your text. (Exams, however, are closed note as well as closed book.)

“Problems assigned” will be collected on the date they are due, and selected problems will be graded. These problems are also fair game for quizzes and exams.
